The above figures show that the work of the Chemical Examiner is increasing in every direction. Since 1880-81 there has been an increase of 1,507 in analyses, or an increase of over 100 per cent. In addition to the analyses above enumerated, nine opinions on technical questions were submitted during the year under report, and 31 applications for leave to file specifications for patent rights were reported on for the Government of India. Some work was also done for the Department of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, in connection with the introduction of the new Excise rules for determining the real alcoholic strength of imported spirits. Two hundred and nine human viscera were examined for poison, as against 199 in 1888. Poison was detected in 48·3 per cent. of these cases, as against 44·2 in the previous year. In 50 cases opium was found, and in 29 cases arsenic, and there were 22 cases in which traces of other poisons were discovered. In commenting on the large number of cases in which the two first-named poisons are found, Dr. Warden remarks: "These figures very clearly demonstrate that opium and arsenic, the two most commonly known poisonous drugs, are still the favourite agents for suicidal and homicidal purposes, respectively, while the more easily procurable, and in many instances as deadly, vegetable poisons are comparatively still very little used in spite of the advance of civilization."

The following remarks of the Chemical Examiner in connection with the examination of spirit for deleterious adulterations are worthy of special note: "Sixty-three samples were examined, compared with 18 during the previous year. The object of the examination was to ascertain whether or not noxious drugs were added to increase the intoxicating effects of the spirit. The following drugs were especially sought for:—Indian hemp, opium, nux-vomica, datura, aconite, and in some cases tobacco. In every case negative results were obtained. Bearing in mind that some of the drugs supposed to be used are highly toxic, and not usually credited with producing intoxicating effects, and having very distinctive and unpleasant tastes, and also remembering that others are costly, it seems highly probable that the idea regarding the adulteration of country liquor with noxious drugs is based on incorrect deductions made by persons not possessed of any technical knowledge. There is no doubt that drugs are added in some cases to the contents of the fermenting vats, as, for example, nux-vomica seeds in bakur pills, and the incorrect conclusion has been arrived at that the distilled spirit must also contain the same drugs. But this inference, as I pointed out some years ago, is founded on a misconception. The active principles of such drugs as aconite, datura, nux-vomica, Indian hemp are non-volatile, and, though the fermented liquid may be saturated with such poisons, the distillate under ordinary conditions will be harmless." These remarks go far to prove that the popular opinion that country liquors are rendered noxious by the infusion of drugs of the nature of datura, hemp, aconite, and the like, is founded on an altogether mistaken basis.

The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Warden for his report, and for the good work he and his assistants have done during the year.

The able and exhaustive report on tube wells submitted by the same officer has already been dealt with in the Sanitation Department of this Office. It is likely to prove of great value in forwarding the cause of sanitary reform.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

JOHN EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE EMBANKMENT REPORTS FOR 1888-89.

No. 695*I*.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 21st April 1890.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The embankment reports for 1888-89.

The budget grant for the maintenance of embankments in Bengal for the year 1888-89 was :—

	Rs.
Government embankments	6,31,928
Tuccavee embankments under contract	3,15,072
Total ...	9,47,000

The expenditure during the year was as follows :—

Government embankments	6,53,405
Tuccavee embankments under contract	1,29,796
Total ...	7,83,201

2. The accompanying statement shows the lengths of embankments in each civil division and district in Bengal other than Orissa. The D Schedule embankments are maintained at Government expense, and those classed as tuccavee are maintained at the cost of zemindars, either under contract for a fixed term of years, or under annual estimates for repairs. The expenditure on the latter is shown in the remarks column.

3. The total length of D Schedule embankments and the cost of maintaining the same, exclusive of charges for establishment and tools and plant, during the year under review, as compared with those of the previous year, are shown below :—

Year.	Length.		Cost
	Miles.	Feet.	Rs.
1888-89	1,127	387	2,98,623
1887-88	1,127	387	2,54,129

The average cost of maintenance per mile has increased from Rs. 225·47 in 1887-88 to Rs. 264·95 in 1888-89.

The chief cause for this increase in expenditure is to be found in the severity of the inundations with which the embanked districts of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions were visited after the heavy rainfall of August 1888. The readings recorded on the gauges of the chief rivers, e.g., the Rupnarain, Damuda and Bhagirutti, are but a few inches lower than the highest recorded in any previous year. In the districts of Burdwan, 24-Pergunnahs, Moorshedabad, Hooghly and a portion of Midnapore numerous breaches of the embankments took place, and the outlay incurred in closing these and in retiring the embankments at threatened points was heavier than usual. Of work of a more special character which has been carried out may be mentioned the raising of portions of the left Damuda embankment in Burdwan; and in the Hooghly district, the remodelling of the embankments of the Madaria khall and of the Damuda, the raising of five miles of the left embankment of the Rupnarain and the construction of a new retired line at Mallock, on the same river, the encroachments of which at this point have been a source of heavy outlay for some years past.

4. The embankments of the Burdwan estate, which are included in Schedule D, were maintained at a cost of Rs. 1,38,319, against Rs. 91,156 in the year previous, or at an increase of Rs. 47,163.

5. The length of tuccavee embankments under contract is now 478 miles 4,942 feet. The small addition of 136 feet over the length shown in the last return is due to the taking over of the Rajbundibund in Midnapore. The average mileage rate of maintenance has risen for 242 miles of tuccavee embankment in the Midnapore district from Rs. 138·32 to Rs. 143·89; for 236 miles in the Patna Division the rate has fallen from Rs. 219·48 to 199·18. On the Gunduk embankments in the district of Chumparun the rate per mile has increased from Rs. 244·30 to Rs. 388·03. It appears from the report that though the Gunduk was at no period of the season in very high flood, yet that the persistent set of the river at various points on its left bank was such as to necessitate heavy expenditure in training and protective works, in order to hold the line of the embankment. The 120 miles of embankment on the Sarun bank of the Gunduk were maintained at the comparatively low rate of Rs. 158·82 per mile.

The losses and suffering caused in embanked districts of Lower Bengal by inundations through breaches in times of flood, and the more frequent occurrence each year of such breaches, in consequence of the deterioration of river channels where embankments exist, are subjects to which much attention has been paid throughout the year. The causes of the defective drainage in the southern portion of the district of Midnapore were investigated by a Committee of Enquiry appointed for that purpose; and a special survey division was organised to deal with the Damuda and Rupnarain rivers. In both these cases the difficulties are great on account of the gradual silting up of the natural drainage outlets of the country. The difficulty of this drainage question is yearly increasing rather than diminishing, but the matter is being carefully considered, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that some practical way of treating it may shortly be arrived at.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. M. McNEILE, Col., R.E.,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,

P. W. Dept.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last

The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell, for the week ending Friday, the 18th of April 1890.

CALCUTTA, the 22nd April 1890.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 18TH OF APRIL 1890.

At the commencement of the present week weather was everywhere settled; south-westerly winds blew over the whole province, Dhubri being the only station reporting an easterly wind, temperature was above the normal, and rising rapidly in the north-east, but was falling slowly in Chutia Nagpur and part of South-West Bengal. The low-pressure area which extended along the foot of the hills on Saturday, the first day of the week, continued without much change relatively to the neighbouring parts, but pressure changes of considerable amount have been going on for the greater part of the week. During the first two days the changes were small; the low-pressure area contracted, and easterly winds commenced in Behar. Temperature was then from three to six degrees in excess in Behar, Chutia Nagpur, the upper part of South-West Bengal, and the lower part of North Bengal, while along the eastern boundary and at the head of the Bay there was either a small excess or defect ranging up to 3° at Cuttack. On Monday, the 14th, a rapid fall of pressure set in, the changes in North Behar and North Bengal in some cases exceeding a tenth of an inch. On the following two days pressure rose briskly but uniformly, and the effect of the previous rapid fall continued on these two days in south-easterly winds prevailing over the eastern half of the province. The only district where winds were not south or south-east was Chutia Nagpur. Rain began to fall in North Bengal on Tuesday, extending on Wednesday to East Bengal and the eastern parts of South-West Bengal, where fairly general, and in some cases heavy, rain fell till the end of the week. With the commencement of rainfall temperature fell in North and East Bengal, but in the other districts, where rain was almost entirely absent, the change of temperature was insignificant, a large excess being general. On Thursday pressure again fell briskly and a distinct depression formed in the North-West Provinces, covering part of Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The increase in the amount of rainfall in North and East Bengal was due to the unsettled weather that resulted, and a few scattered showers fell in North Behar and Orissa, while rain was fairly general in Nuddea, Khulna, and Jessore, and in part of the Moorshedabad district, on Friday. Thus the week ended with more seriously disturbed weather than has been experienced this season in Bengal, the interaction of the south-westerly winds from Chutia Nagpur with the south-easterly winds in Lower Bengal and the north-east winds in North Bengal, along with the continuance of this arrangement for some days, having caused general and for the season heavy rain over the whole of the eastern half of the province.

Pressure—Changes have been fairly large, with the exception of the first two days and the last day of the week. On Monday the 14th there was a rapid fall followed by a brisk rise on the 15th and 16th. On the 17th there was again a brisk to rapid fall, and on Friday the 18th slight irregular changes. On the 14th and 15th, and again on the 17th and 18th, there was defect of over a twentieth of an inch, but on the other days the differences from the normal were very slight. The means for the week are all below the normal, the largest differences being about a twentieth of an inch in South-West Bengal and Behar, and the smallest two to three-hundredths of an inch in Orissa and the neighbouring part of South West Bengal.

Temperature—Has been subject to rather large changes and the distribution has been irregular. Thus at Cuttack, Calcutta, Dacca, and Darjeeling the mean maximum temperature is below the normal, while at Burdwan, Patna, Purneah, and Hazaribagh there has been excess of from 3·5° to 4 5°. The night temperatures have been all above the normal except at Dacca, the largest being 5° at Gya. The means for the large divisions are slightly below the normal in two cases—Orissa and East Bengal, and above the normal in the others from 2° to 3·5°.

The actual temperatures during the week, the range from day to night, and their variations from the normals are seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts in the province are given together with their normal values:—

Rainfall—Commenced on Tuesday in North and East Bengal, but the showers on that day were slight and scattered. The area and amount both increased on Wednesday, and on Thursday and Friday, the 17th and 18th, general rain fell in those two districts and in part of South-West Bengal, but in Behar, Chutia Nagpur, Orissa, and the western half of South-West Bengal very little rain has fallen. Thunderstorms have in some cases been severe, and in one case in the Mymensingh district the storm approached in violence to a tornado, but as it did not pass near any observatory, no details have been received. The largest falls are 4·8 inches at Nattore, 3·3 inches at Lalgola, and about 3 inches at Naraingunge, Dacca, Munshigunge, and Agartola. The means are 1·3 inches in East Bengal, 0·85 in North Bengal, 0 28 in South-West Bengal, and in the other districts under a tenth of an inch except in Chutia Nagpur, where no rain has fallen.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 18th of April 1890 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

General remarks on the fluctuations of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during 4 weeks ended 22nd February 1890.

Increases.

Cotton.—The increase was chiefly in despatches from stations above Cawnpore to Howrah for export

Wheat.—The improvement in this staple was due to a fair demand in Calcutta for local consumption, despatches having been made chiefly from Sahebgunge, Bhagulpore, Aligarh, Hathras, and Delhi.

Grain and Pulse.—There was a decrease in the weight carried attended with an increase in the earnings; the former was due to heavy short lead despatches last year from stations on the R. district. The increase in earnings was chiefly in dâll from Cawnpore to Howrah for export to Rangoon.

Iron.—The increase under this head was chiefly in iron pipes despatched from Howrah for the new water-works at Agra and Delhi; some scrap materials also were brought down to Howrah for sale.

Oils.—This was chiefly in despatches of kerosine-oil from Howrah to Patna vid Moghul Serai, and to stations on the East Indian Railway.

Opium.—The increase was principally in consignments to Howrah from Ghazipore vid Tari Ghât.

Foreign Railway Material.—This was chiefly in despatches of materials to Damooda, Chakardarpur, and Umaria for the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, and to Delhi for the Delhi-Umballa-Kalka Railway.

Salt.—Due to a good demand for Liverpool salt. Despatches were chiefly made from Howrah to stations on the Assam-Behar, Tirhoot State, and the Bengal and North-Western Railways.

Saltpetre.—Chiefly in despatches from Patna, Mokameh Ghât, and Delhi to Howrah for export to China.

Seeds.—The increase was in the new crop of mustard-seed from the Tirhoot State and the Oudh and Rohilkhund Railways to Howrah, principally for local consumption.

Spices.—Principally in chillies from Mokameh and Mokameh Ghât to Howrah, Burdwan, and stations on the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

Sugar (refined and unrefined).—The increase was chiefly in despatches from stations on the Shahabad district to Howrah for export to Assam and Burmah, owing to supplies from Mauritius having fallen off.

Bones.—In despatches from Mokameh Ghât, Allahabad and vid Moghul Serai to Bally and Chitpur.

DECREASES.

Coal and Coke.—This is in continuation of the decreases previously reported, and was principally in downwards traffic.

Piece-goods.—The decrease was chiefly in despatches from Howrah; there was also a falling off in the despatches from Bombay to Cawnpore vid Jubbulpore consequent on diversion to the Itarsi route.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—The falling off in this commodity was principally at stations on the "A" and "B" districts, owing to there being no demand at stations on the "B" district and on the Tirhoot State Railway this year.

Hides.—The decrease was in despatches from the principal sending stations up-country, and was due to small supplies in local markets.

AUSTRALIA—NORTH-EAST COAST.

INNER ROUTE—HOWICK GROUP.

Non-existence of Harrington rock.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 128 of 1890) that the following information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander G. C. Frederick, H. M. Surveying-vessel Dart, relative to a search made in December 1889 for Harrington rock, reported in 1874 as lying southward of Coquet island, Howick group, and to have less than 6 feet of water on it :—

The Dart was anchored 3 cables south-eastward of the reported position of Harrington rock (lat. 14° 33½′ S , long. 145° 1½′ E.), and the boats sounded closely around for a distance of 7½ cables, without any evidence of shoal water being observed.

The soundings show the bottom as evenly sloping from 6½ fathoms near the track recommended on the west to 8 fathoms on the east, and no appearance of shoal or discoloured water was seen from the masthead. Subsequently the Dart steamed over the reported position.

On two previous occasions the Dart had passed close to the reported position without any indication of shoal water being seen.

Considering that in the original report there was no positive evidence of a rock, and that had one existed it would probably ere this have been again reported, this examination of Dart is considered to disprove the original report, and Harrington rock has therefore been removed from the Admiralty Charts.

Port Officer of Calcutta.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

NOTIFICATION.

THE following Rules, framed by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, under section 2 of Act III of 1879, which have been sanctioned by the Local Governments of Bengal and Assam and confirmed by the Governor-General in Council, under section 5 of the same Act, are laid down for the guidance of the Subordinate Civil Courts.

The Rules shall come into force on the 1st day of January, 1891.

H. W. C. CARNDUFF,
Offg. Registrar.

FORT WILLIAM, the 23rd April, 1890.

Rules for the Maintenance and Destruction of the Registers of Subordinate Civil Courts.

1. In supersession of all previous orders on the subject, the Court is pleased to prescribe the Registers, of which lists and forms are appended, to be kept in the Courts subordinate to it.

2. The Registers are shown under three classes—

A—Primary Registers.
B—Subsidiary Registers.
C—Accounts Registers.

The Primary Registers are those which have to do directly with cases filed in Court and which form a quasi-record of the progress and disposal of such cases. The Subsidiary Registers are those which have to be maintained for administrative purposes or for the purpose of preparing statistical returns. The Accounts Registers are those which have to do with the receipt and payment of money.

3. The classes of Courts in which the different Registers are to be kept up, and the periods for which they are to be preserved, are shown in the accompanying lists. The periods stated therein are to be reckoned from the date of the last entry in the Register, and the Court is pleased to direct, under Section 2 of Act III of 1879, that, at the expiration of those periods, the Registers shall be destroyed. It is not necessary to open new Registers in every instance each year.

4. Wherever it is possible, the Primary Registers and the Accounts Registers should be kept in English.

5. While the Court does not positively forbid the maintenance of other Subsidiary Registers in the various Courts subordinate to it, the accompanying lists specify all the Registers which, it is believed, are absolutely necessary either for judicial or administrative purposes.

6. The forms in most cases sufficiently explain themselves. The following additional instructions are, however, issued for general guidance.

A—PRIMARY REGISTERS.

7. Registers 1 and 2, Register of Civil Suits and Register of Rent Suits.—To facilitate reference in the making up of Quarterly and Annual Statements, column 2 of the General Register of Suits prescribed by Section 58, Act XII of 1882, shall be sub-divided into two columns. The first sub-column shall contain the consecutive number of the suit in the General Register, the second shall contain a subordinate serial number for all suits of the following kinds, viz., (a) Small Cause Court class, and (b) Suits for Money, distinguishing suits up to Rs. 500 cognizable by Small Cause Courts from other cases.

For the column headed "Appearance" in the said General Register of Suits, and the sub-columns headed respectively "Day for parties to appear," "Plaintiff" and "Defendant" shall be substituted a column headed "Mode of disposal," with a sub-heading "Whether decided ex parte or after contest or on compromise." For the two sub-columns under the heading "Appeals," the following shall be substituted—"No. and date of Appeal" and "Date and purport of Judgment in Appeal." For the first sub-column under the head of "Execution" the following shall be substituted—"No. and date of application." In columns 17 and 18 shall be entered not only the particulars of the order on First Appeal, but also the particulars of the order on Second Appeal or Revision, if any.

The High Court takes this opportunity to impress upon the attention of all Subordinate Courts the necessity of duly and regularly filling in the particulars regarding proceedings in execution of decrees. The proceedings upon each application for execution should find a place in this Register which is intended to show a complete history of the suit from institution to final satisfaction of decree.

8. Register 11.—A separate Register of Execution Cases has been prescribed, not with the object of superseding the information to be entered in the execution columns of the General Registers, but for the sake of administrative convenience, and also for the purpose of showing proceedings in execution of decrees of other Courts.

9. Register 13.—In the Register of Appeals prescribed by Section 548 of the Code of Civil Procedure for the column headed "Appearance" and the three sub-columns headed respectively "Date for parties to appear," "Appellant" and "Respondent" shall be substituted a column headed "Mode of disposal," with a sub-heading "Whether decided ex parte or after contest or on compromise." A column headed "Remarks" shall be added to this Register, and the particulars of any order passed on Second Appeal or Revision shall be entered therein.

10. Register 15.—In this Register shall be included Appeals from Orders under Section 588 of Act XIV of 1882, and Appeals in Miscellaneous Judicial Cases only. Applications to withdraw or transfer an Appeal under Section 25, Code of Civil Procedure, applications for the re-admission or re-hearing of an Appeal under Section 558 or 560, and applications for review of Judgment under Section 623, are not Appeals but of the nature of original applications though made to an Appellate Court. They will, therefore, be entered in the Register of Miscellaneous Judicial Cases (No. 7) kept up in that Court, and they will be shown in Monthly Statement B, Part 2, Quarterly Statement B, and Annual Statement 4, Part 2.

When an appeal is remanded, revived or reviewed it will of course be shown in its proper place in the Registers of Appeals.

11. Register 17.—Register 17 shall be used in Courts of Small Causes only, and not by Munsiffs and Subordinate Judges vested with Small Cause Court powers.

12. Register 18.—Register 18 shall be used in Courts of Small Causes, and every Subordinate Judge and Munsiff vested under Section 25, Act XII of 1887, with the jurisdiction of a Judge of a Court of Small Causes, whatever the pecuniary limits assigned, shall use this Summons Book for purposes of record in connection with cases tried under such powers.

13. The High Court do not consider it necessary to prescribe a Register for any cases of a non-judicial nature other than those which will be entered in Registers 9 and 10.

B—Subsidiary Registers.

14. Register 1.—The Diary shall contain all the particulars entered in the form, and each day's entry shall be signed by the presiding officer before leaving the Court. Each case fixed for any day shall be entered in advance immediately upon a date or adjourned date being fixed, and the entry as to each case shall show whether it is for final disposal at the first hearing or for settlement of issues or for trial after adjournment, or for any other purpose. The Diary shall show briefly the progress made in each case, and when witnesses are examined in any case the number of such witnesses shall be stated.

15. Register 2.—The Register of Petitions requires no explanation. The number of petitions received each day with their serial numbers, as shown in this Register, shall be entered in the Diary.

16. Register 3.—The instructions given at the foot of the Register of Attendance of Witnesses shall be carefully followed.

17. Register 7.—The Register of Applications for Copies shall be in charge of the comparing clerk and not of a copyist. Applications for copies, or inspection of Wills and Registers of Wills, shall, in accordance with the orders of the Government of Bengal, be entered in this Register.

18. Registers 8 and 9.—The District Judge shall furnish each Civil Court Amin with copies of these two Registers, which shall be kept up regularly by the Amin.

19. Register 13.—There shall be maintained in each of the Subordinate Civil Courts a Register in this form of all Pleaders and Mukhtars enrolled in it under sections 8 and 9 of the Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879).

C—Accounts Registers.

20. Register 20.—The Sale Account Register shall be filled up in every case by the Nazir or other officer holding the sale, and shall be presented by him at the close of the day to the presiding officer of the Court under the orders of which the sale has been held.

The provisions of the Civil Procedure Code render it necessary that cash should sometimes be received by the Nazir even where sales are held at head-quarters where there is a treasury. It is therefore very important that all Judges should see that the cash so received is duly forwarded to the treasury and credited in account, and it is the object of the Sale Account Register to bring to the notice of the Judges all such cash transactions that they may satisfy themselves as to the regular and immediate disposal of the proceeds.

21. Registers 23 and 24.—The Detailed Daily Register of Court-fees realized shall be kept in order to secure the accuracy of entries made in the Abstract Daily Register of Court-fees realized, and the instructions at the foot of the form shall be carefully observed.

The form of Abstract Daily Register of Court-fees realized has been prescribed for adoption by the Government of India and shall be regularly maintained. The entries in this Register are not to be made in detail, but only so as to show the aggregate value of the stamps filed in Court during each day under each of the five classes indicated. The entries shall be initialled daily by the presiding officer.

22. The instructions as to the keeping of the Account Registers, contained in the rules for the receipt and payment of money by Judicial Officers, which are incorporated in Chapter III of the High Court's Civil Rules and Orders, should be carefully observed. The forms, which for the sake of convenience are attached to these rules, are the same as those contained in that Chapter.

23. These rules shall take effect from the 1st of January, 1891.

FORT WILLIAM, the 28th April 1890.

Rules for the Arrangement, Classification, Preservation, and Destruction of the Records of Civil Proceedings.

PART I.

The following rules apply to—

RECORDS OF ALL CIVIL COURTS OTHER THAN SMALL CAUSE COURTS.

SECTION I.

THE CLASSIFICATION OF RECORDS OF JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS.

1. The records of judicial proceedings, whether suits or cases, are divided into four clases. This classification relates only to the preparation and the preservation or destruction of the record, and does not affect any other classification of suits or cases for the purpose of returns or statements.

Class I includes records of—

(a) Suits for or affecting immoveable property, including suits under Act IV of 1882 for foreclosure, redemption or sale.

(b) Suits in respect of the succession to an office, or to establish or set aside an adoption, or otherwise determine the status of an individual.

(c) Suits relating to public trusts, charities or endowments.

(d) Suits between landlord and tenant to determine the rate of rent, or in which a question of right to enhance or vary the rent of a tenant, or any question relating to a title to land or to some interest in land as between parties having conflicting claims thereto, is in issue.

(e) Cases under Section 158 of Act VIII of 1885 to determine the incidents of a tenancy.

Class II includes records of—

(a) Contested and uncontested suits and cases for probate and letters of administration, and for the revocation of the same.

(NOTE.—The custody and preservation of a Will itself is provided for by Chapter IV, Section 4, and consequently a Will is not a part of the record within the meaning of this rule.)

(b) Cases under Act XL of 1858 and Act IX of 1861 relating to the guardianship of minors and the administration of their property.

(c) Cases under Act XXXV of 1858 relating to the guardianship of lunatics and the care of their estates.

(NOTE.—An application by an executor or administrator, or by the guardian of a minor or lunatic to sell, mortgage, &c., property belonging to the estate, is an application in the case, and, together with all the proceedings connected with it, must form part of the record of the case.)

Class III includes records of—

(a) All suits which do not come under Class I or Class II, excluding suits of the Small Cause Court class, which are tried in the Regular Civil Courts under the procedure prescribed for Small Cause Courts.

(b) Cases under Act XIX of 1841.

" Act VII, 1889 (Collection of Debts).

" Act IX, 1861 (Guardianship of Minors).

" Act X, 1870 (Land Acquisition Act), Parts III and IV.

" Act VII, 1876 B.C. (Land Registration Act), Section 59.

" Act XVIII, 1879 (Legal Practitioners Act), Section 14.

" Act VIII, 1885 (Bengal Tenancy Act), Sections 91 to 93.

" The Civil Procedure Code for a declaration of insolvency.

" The Civil Procedure Code to transfer a decree when no application for execution is pending.

" Regulation V, 1799, Section 7, regarding the property of intestates in which a claimant appears.

(c) Such other cases as the High Court may from time to time direct to be included.

(NOTE.—Proceedings under the Civil Procedure Code for the transfer or for the restoration of a suit or appeal, or for a review of judgment, are proceedings in the suit or appeal and must form part of the record relating thereto.)

Class IV includes—

Proceedings on an application to execute a decree.

(NOTE.—Under the law all such proceedings are proceedings in the suit, and they must be entituled as such ; but for the purpose of the arrangement and ultimate disposal of the record, each application for execution shall be treated as a separate case, the record of which shall include the papers on all matters connected with the execution from the date on which the application was presented until it is finally disposed of, excepting only proceedings under Section 331 of the Procedure Code, which are suits and come under Class I.)

Records of suits of the Small Cause Court class tried under the Small Cause Court Procedure by judicial officers empowered under Section 25, Act XII of 1887, shall be disposed of in accordance with the rules hereinafter provided for the records of Courts of Small Causes (Part II).

In cases of Class IV, the period shall be reckoned from the date on which the application for execution was finally disposed of by the Court executing the decree, or by a Court of Appeal, whichever is the later date. For the purposes of this rule each execution record shall be dealt with separately, irrespective of any other application to execute the same decree or order.

43. The destruction of all papers shall be carried into effect by burning in the presence of the Record-keeper.

SECTION VI.

Miscellaneous Non-Judicial Cases.

44. The records of Miscellaneous Non-Judicial Cases, including cases relating to the deposit of rent, shall be forwarded to the District Record-room from Courts at head-quarters in the course of the quarter, and from Courts at out-stations in the course of the half-year next succeeding that in which they were disposed of.

(Note.—The date of disposal of an application to deposit rent shall be deemed to be that on which the deposit has been paid away or, if it has not been paid, that on which the notice prescribed by Clause II of Section 63 of the Tenancy Act has been served.)

45. A list in the form prescribed for Judicial records shall accompany all records of this class when transmitted to the Record-room.

46. Such records shall be destroyed at the end of six years from the date on which the cases were disposed of.

PART II.

The following rules apply to—

Records of Courts of Small Causes.

1. The records of suits decided by Judges of Small Cause Courts, when presiding in such Courts, shall not be forwarded to the District Record-room, but shall be retained in the Court to which they belong until the period for their destruction shall arrive.

2. The record shall consist of only one file, including proceedings in connection with the execution of the decree.

3. If there is a decree under which any one is entitled to recover anything, the record shall be destroyed at the end of one year from the date on which the decree has been fully satisfied, or on which it has been declared that execution is barred or cannot be had. In other cases the record shall be destroyed at the end of one year from the date of the decree.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.
BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first two volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III is in course of preparation, and will contain the letters D, E, F, and G. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued consisting of an index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.*

In cases where two Surveyors make the survey, the Engineer-Surveyor will survey the engines, boilers, and all the machinery required to be surveyed under the Act; the Shipwright-Surveyor will inspect the hull, equipments and passenger accommodation, measure and determine the number of passengers the vessel is fit to carry, and see that the certificates of the master, mates, and engineers or engine-driver are such as is required by the Act; also that the lights and fog-signals are in accordance with the regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea.

5. The Surveyors' declarations and the certificates of survey shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed and numbered 3 and 4 respectively.

6. Every declaration shall be sent, in accordance with section 12 of the Act, by the owner or master to whom it is given, to the officer appointed under section 12, clause (1) of the Act.

7. The notice to be given under section 13, sub-section (3) of the Act, to the owner or master when a certificate is ready for delivery shall be given in the form No. 5 hereto annexed under the signature of the officer to whom this function has been delegated under section 13, sub-section (4) clause (b) of the Act.

8. If every part of the steam-ship is not ready for survey at the time so appointed, or if the requisite preparations have not been made in accordance with the list forwarded to the applicant under Rule 2, the Surveyor may fix some other convenient time for the survey.

9. If the Surveyor is unavoidably prevented from being present at the time fixed, the earliest possible information shall be sent to the applicant, and some other time, convenient to the applicant and to the Surveyor, shall be fixed for the survey.

10. With a view to obviate inconvenience and delay, owners and masters whose vessels are in dock or undergoing repairs should communicate at once with the Surveyors, if their vessels have afterwards to be surveyed.

11. If a Surveyor finds that any defect exists in the hull, machinery or equipments of a steam-ship, he shall, before refusing to give a declaration regarding the ship under section 11 of the Act, address a letter in the Form No. 6 hereto annexed to the owner or master of the steam-ship, pointing out such defect and the repairs, &c., necessary to make good the same and to enable him to grant a declaration.

RULES FOR CONTROLLING THE TRANSPORT OF EMIGRANTS TO THE LABOUR DISTRICTS OF ASSAM.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 17th April, 1890.

RESOLUTION.

THE rules sanctioned last year under Bengal Act I of 1859 provide for the inspection of places of accommodation for emigrants in the mofussil, but no reference is made in them to the buildings maintained for that purpose in Calcutta. In practice, these have been considered as subject to inspection by the Superintendent of Emigration, and it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be advisable to recognize this arrangement by rule.

2. The importance of regulating the railway journey was recognized from the first, and great improvements have been introduced with the consent of the railway authorities. It is now considered expedient to give to these arrangements the force of rules, particularly as that course has been adopted with regard to emigrants registered under Act I of 1882. Where the precautions it is now proposed to adopt are more detailed, it has been deemed advisable, for the sake of conformity, to amend also the rules under Act I of 1882.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor accordingly proposes to issue the following rules, any objections to which will be considered on the 28th May next :—

Rules to be issued in addition to the existing rules under Act I (B.C.) of 1889.

18. The daily despatch of emigrants by train shall be previously arranged for by the forwarding agent with the railway authorities concerned, so as to prevent overcrowding by the securing of sufficient carriage accommodation for the whole number of emigrants intending to travel.

19. The agent shall provide for emigrants started on a railway journey after 9 A.M. a cooked meal, and for those started at or before that hour a dry meal instead, consisting of bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of ten years. Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than six hours, bread or biscuit and sugar in the same proportions shall be given by the agent for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey.

20. When a medical officer has been appointed by Government to examine emigrants, no emigrants shall be put into the train without being inspected and passed as fit to undertake the journey by such officer. The medical officer will report any breach of rule 19 which may come to his notice.

21. When despatching emigrants by train, the purest drinking water obtainable shall be supplied by the agent in a sufficient number of suitable vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriages. Emigrants shall be afforded opportunities for leaving their carriages at three selected watering-stations between Sara and Parbutipur, one-third of the carriages at a time being emptied to admit of the station latrines being used and of additional supplies of drinking-water being obtained.

22. Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated in third class carriages specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods wagons attached to passenger trains only, and the number in each such carriage or goods wagon shall in no case exceed the regulation number.

23. The train journey of emigrants under conveyance from recruiting districts direct to Dhubri or to Goalundo shall be performed by the Hooghly-Naihati route.

24. If cholera occurs on the journey by train, the patient shall as soon as possible be removed, by and at the expense of the railway authorities, to the nearest cholera hospital or other suitable place for medical treatment; and particulars of the case, furnishing name of emigrant, batch to which belonging, and depôt from which originally despatched, shall be forwarded by the station-master to the officers concerned.

5A. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Inland Emigration to inspect places of accommodation provided for emigrants in Calcutta.

Rules to be substituted for the existing Rules 64, 65 and 69 under the Inland Emigration Act, I of 1882.

64. The daily despatch of emigrants shall be previously arranged for by the contractor or forwarding agent with the railway authorities concerned, so as to prevent overcrowding by the securing of sufficient carriage accommodation for the whole number of emigrants intending to travel.

65. The contractors or garden sardar shall provide for emigrants started on a railway journey after 9 A.M. a cooked meal, and for those started at or before that hour a dry meal instead, consisting of bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of ten years. Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than six hours, bread or biscuit and sugar in the same proportions shall be given by the contractor or garden sardar for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey.

69. When a medical officer has been appointed by Government to examine emigrants, no emigrants shall be put into the train without being inspected and passed as fit to undertake the journey by such officer.

When despatching emigrants by train, the purest drinking-water obtainable shall be supplied by contractors or forwarding agents in a sufficient number of suitable vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriages. In the absence of latrine arrangements, emigrants shall be afforded opportunities for leaving their carriages at three selected watering-stations between Sara and Parbutipur, one-third of the carriages at a time being emptied to admit of the station latrines being used and of additional supplies of drinking-water being obtained.

Rules to be issued in addition to the existing rules under Act I of 1882.

Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated in third class carriages that are specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods wagons attached to passenger trains only, and the number in each such carriage or goods wagon shall in no case exceed the regulation number.

The train journey of emigrants under conveyance from recruiting districts direct to Dhubri or to Goalundo shall be performed by the Hooghly-Naihati route.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE IRRIGATION OPERATIONS OF CANALS IN BENGAL DURING KHARIF SEASON OF 1889-90.

No. 719*I*.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 28th April 1890.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Statements Nos I, II, and III of Irrigation Operations of Canals in Bengal during kharif season of 1889-90.

OBSERVATIONS.—The area irrigated during the kharif season of 1889-90 was 481,111 acres against 485,502 acres in 1888-89; a decrease of ·9 per cent.

2. On the Orissa Canals the kharif area under irrigation has expanded by 10,717 acres, and it is probable that when the measurements of lands upon some of the canals which have not yet been cadastrally surveyed are finally completed, the area will be found to be actually larger than that shown in the statements. The character of the season in many respects resembled that of 1888-89, during which a larger area of kharif was irrigated than in any previous year in the history of these canals. Of the additional area now brought under lease, 8,772 acres are in the Balasore district, the increase in the irrigation corresponding to a decline in the rainfall from 40·04 inches to 31·40 inches.

3. On the Midnapore Canal only 29·67 inches of rainfall were registered against 51·42 in the previous year. There was an active demand for water, especially at the end of the season; and the discharge of the Cossye, on which less reliance can be placed than on any other river in Bengal used as a source of supply, was fairly well maintained. The returns show a nominal decrease on this canal of 1,079 acres; but as the supply in 1888-89 was admittedly insufficient, and large remissions on the assessed area had in consequence to be granted, the results of 1889-90 really indicate an improved state of affairs.

4. In the three districts watered by the Sone Canals, the rainfall from July to October was below the average and much below the rainfall of the previous year. The season, however, was not an unfavourable one as far as the rice crop was concerned, for rain continued to fall until a late date in September. A break which then occurred and lasted till nearly the end of the hathia (25th September to 8th October) produced a strong demand for water for irrigation; and though there was rain on 8th October, the subsequent showers in that month were insignificant. During the 30 days from 21st September to 20th October, the Sone Canals in this as in the preceding year were worked almost to full power, but the pressure during this period was not as acute as in the corresponding period in 1888-89; and the area to which water was supplied shows a small falling off. In five-year leases, however, notwithstanding that 45,455 acres had lapsed on the 1st April 1889, and that applications for 29,788 acres were refused on the ground that the village channels were not of the required standard, and for other good reasons, there is an increase of 16,000 acres, so that the deficiency already noted took place entirely in annual kharif leases.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, and of the Statements Nos. I, II, and III, be submitted to the Government of India, in the Public Works Department, for information; also that copies be forwarded to the Commissioners of the Orissa, Burdwan, and Patna Divisions; the Collectors of Cuttack, Midnapore, Patna, Shahabad, Gya, and Sarun; the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, and Sone Circles; and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1889.

No. 1084 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Marine.

Calcutta, the 28th April 1890.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter No. 1148, dated the 26th February 1890, from the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, submitting the report of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta for the year 1889.

Establishment.

DR. RICHARDS was the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta from the beginning of the year up to the 14th September, when he took leave. Shortly afterwards he died. He was relieved by Dr. G. Jameson, who acted until the 11th November, when he made over charge to Dr. R. MacLeod, who has submitted the present report. The Health Officer asked to be furnished with a suitable boat for his use, as the one which he had was too large to be safely handled within the moorings. A new boat has now been supplied.

Inspections.

2. The report shows that 1,443 vessels were inspected during the year, against 1,464 in 1888. The reduction in the number of vessels inspected is unimportant.

Dr. Richards brought to notice that many steamers arrived in the port which had unsuitable and ill-ventilated accommodation for their crews, and the Health Officer was asked to furnish instances of such ships, with a view to the Board of Trade being furnished with information on the subject. Certain instances having already been furnished to the Government, the owners of the vessels not ordinarily trading to the United Kingdom were addressed on the subject, and they have undertaken to improve the ventilation of the crew spaces. Further enquiries are now being made regarding other vessels, the result of which will be communicated to the Government of India.

Sickness and mortality among European seamen

3. The number of European seamen who arrived in port fell from 22,705 in 1888 to 20,662 in the year under report, but the daily average population was 1,626 against 1,510 in 1888. Including deaths out of hospital, the death-rates per mille of the last five years were as follows:—

	Cholera.	Other causes.	Total.
1885	4·72	25·99	30·71
1886	11·61	33·53	45·14
1887	10·03	16·91	26·94
1888	10·59	27·15	37·74
1889	11·07	20·29	31·36

The following table shows the number of admissions into hospital and deaths from different diseases during the past five years:—

	1885.		1886.		1887.		1888.		1889.
	Admissions.	Deaths.	Admissions.	Deaths.	Admissions.	Deaths.	Admissions.	Deaths.	Admissions.	Deaths.

Total ..	1,976	40	2,714	71	1,719	35	1,575	49	1,816	43

4. The total number of casualties from all causes was 51 against 57 in 1888. Of these, 43 occurred in hospitals and 8 elsewhere. As regards the cases in hospitals, it is satisfactory to notice that the death-rate fell from 32·4 per mille in the previous year to 26·4 during the year under report, which is nearly equal to the quinquennial mean (26).

5. The death-rate from cholera was slightly lower than the average of the previous five years. As regards the seasonal incidence of this disease, it may be observed that the rise in the port did not always correspond with that in the town.

The Health Officer brings to notice that timely information is not always given to him by the Hospital authorities of the occurrence of cholera on board ships with a view to enable him to inspect them early. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has already been asked to instruct the Superintendents of the Medical College, General, Howrah, Campbell and Mayo Hospitals, to convey to the Health Officer early information of cases of cholera, small-pox, or other contagious diseases common in India, and of scurvy occurring amongst sailors, and his attention will again be invited to the subject. Rules have also been framed with a view to enable the Health Officer to get information of such diseases occurring on board direct from the shipping. They are under the consideration of the Government and will shortly be issued.

6. It is satisfactory to observe that there were no admissions from small-pox during the year, against 1 in 1888, and that no death has been reported from this disease since 1881.

It is worthy of remark that there were no admissions from scurvy during the year, against 3, 4, 7 and 13 in 1888, 1887, 1886 and 1885 respectively.

Six cases of sunstroke were admitted into hospital with 1 death, against 19 admissions with 5 deaths in hospital and 3 deaths out of hospital in 1888. Three deaths from this disease are reported to have occurred on board ships in port.

There was no death either from acute alcoholism or delirium-tremens.

7. Fifteen deaths are reported to have occurred from drowning, against 6 in 1888. The late Dr. Richards suggested that death from this cause might to a certain extent be prevented by putting up hand-rails on each side of the landing-stages. It was ascertained that none of the accidents in 1888 happened from off the jetty gangways, and no action was taken in the matter. The Health Officer will be instructed to report the causes so far as they can be ascertained of the 15 accidents which occurred in 1889.

8. Although the number of European seamen admitted into hospital on account of venereal disease in 1889 was greater than in the previous year, the rate per mille on the average strength was lower than that of the past three years, and it compares favourably with the quinquennial mean.

At sea there were 36 deaths, against 35 during the previous year.

Sickness and mortality among the native floating population.

9. The following table shows the mortality from all causes among the native floating population, the averages being calculated on a population of 25,000 :—

	Total deaths.		Ratio per mille.
	1889.	1888.	1889.	1888.
Cholera	80	95	3·2	3·7
Bowel-complaints ...	9	7	·36	·27
Fever, malarious ...	5	22	·2	·85
Do., simple	8		·32	..
Other causes	27	24	1·08	·96
Total ...	129	148	5·16	5·78

The figures, however, as stated last year, are not very reliable.

Lascar crews.

10. The total death-rate among the lascar crews on the river was 1·29 per 1,000 against 1·6 per 1,000 in 1888. No complaints were made by the lascar crews during the year.

Pilgrims.

11. During the year four ships arrived in port with pilgrims from Jeddah, in one of which there were two cases of small-pox. In the annual report for the year 1887, the Health Officer of the Port made certain proposals with a view to ensure the more efficient sanitary treatment of vessels arriving in port with cases of small-pox. It has been decided that it must be left to the captains and officers of ships to assist the Health Officer in carrying out the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act.

Water-supply.

12. No complaint was made in regard to the water-supply to the shipping during the year.

Conservancy.

13 The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that there has been a general improvement in the conservancy of the foreshore of the river, some of the nuisances formerly complained of having been removed. Although the drain at King's Road, Howrah, still discharges into the river, yet it is more free from pollution than it formerly was, as measures have been taken by the Municipal Commissioners of Howrah to prevent offensive matter being thrown into the drain till the proposed scheme for draining the whole town is carried out. The nuisance at the jetties, which was formerly a subject of complaint, has been removed by providing an additional latrine within the jetty enclosure. The flushing inlets have also been free from offensive smell during the year.

Dr. MacLeod reports that the highly objectionable outflow of liquid sewage from Fort William has received the personal attention of the Sanitary Commissioner, and hopes that permanent good will result. A scheme for connecting the sewers of Fort William with those of the town has been prepared, and the Government of India has been asked to have it carried out.

It is satisfactory to observe that the defects noticed in the previous year's report, regarding the state of Kassi Mitter's burning ghât, have been remedied by raising a wall on the river side, thus preventing the cremation of bodies being seen from the river.

The Health Officer brings to notice that at a brick-field at Ghoosery the foreshore is not kept in proper sanitary condition. The Health Officer will be asked to submit a special report on this subject.

Corpses and carcasses floating in the river.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor, while noticing with satisfaction the decrease in the number of corpses found in the river, regrets to find that the number of carcasses is still on the increase. The Municipal and Judicial Departments of this Government will be asked to take further steps in this matter.

Conclusion.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with deep regret the untimely death of Dr. Richards, and endorses the remarks of the Sanitary Commissioner that in him the Government has lost a zealous, energetic and efficient officer. His Honour is glad to observe that Dr. MacLeod and the Native Sanitary Inspector, Baboo Nanda Lal Haldar, have performed their duties satisfactorily.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. M. McNEILE, Col., R.E.,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Add estimated receipts as above	26,82,475
Total ...	28,37,497
Deduct estimated expenditure as above	26,76,302
Probable balance on 31st March 1891	1,61,195

Receipts.

2. The estimate of receipts from the Jetties (Part I) is taken at Rs. 24,000 below the estimate for the previous year. It is stated that there was a great falling off in the grain export trade, causing in the first quarter of 1889-90 diminished shipping receipts. The receipts at the Petroleum Wharf at Budge-Budge and at the Tea Warehouse at Armenian Ghât are taken in each case at Rs. 20,000 over the figures for the previous year.

3. In Appendix B a sum of Rs. 20,000 is entered, representing the earnings of the Commissioners' hopper barges. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Commissioners will furnish the details on which this estimate is based, together with a schedule of the charges levied for the use of the barges.

4. In Appendix G a sum of Rs. 5,229 is entered as the rent to be received from the Government for the portion of the Commissioners' premises which is occupied by the Port Office. As the new Port Office will be ready for occupation at the latest by the 1st of January 1891, the amount should be reduced by 25 per cent.

5. The estimate of receipts from the Commissioners' Tramway [Part IV] is taken at Rs. 3,20,000. From information recently received it appears that the charges levied by the Commissioners for the conveyance of goods by their tramway have not, as required by law, received the sanction of the Local Government. The schedule of these charges is now under the consideration of the Government, and the estimate is accepted subject to any modifications that may be made hereafter. The estimate may also require modification to bring the working of the tramway into conformity with the provisions of the Railway Act which has recently been passed by the Council of His Excellency the Governor-General for making Laws and Regulations.

6. In estimate No. 23 a sum of Rs. 13,000 is entered, which represents fees for the survey of vessels. The charges for the survey of vessels will, on and after the 1st of May 1890, be disbursed by the Government, and the fees will be credited to the Government with effect from the same date. The estimate of receipts should be revised accordingly.

Expenditure.

7. An increase of Rs. 21,000 is proposed in the expenditure at the Jetties [Part I]. The principal items of increase are Rs. 5,000 under Salaries and Rs 11,000 under Working Expenses. The former is for the Tea Warehouse and the latter for the Tea Warehouse and the Petroleum Wharf.

8. It may be remarked that while after providing for interest and other charges a surplus revenue of large amount is obtained from the petroleum trade, the Tea Warehouse at Armenian Ghât appears to be worked at a considerable loss.

9. The expenditure at the Inland Vessels' Wharves [Part II] is estimated at Rs. 4,03,144, against the estimate of Rs. 4,35,994 for the previous year. The difference is due to a reduction in the amount allotted for new works and improvements.

10. Estimate No. 14 amounts to Rs. 31,000 and provides for the cost of two new works. The estimates for these works require the sanction of the Government.

11. In the Harbour Master's Department [Part IV] there is a reduction of Rs. 31,910 under the head "Renewal of Block." It is explained that a sum of Rs. 2,00,000 having been accumulated, the estimate for the current year provides only Rs. 10,000, which is the sum that will actually be spent on renewals.

12. Estimate No. 30 provides Rs. 30,673 for establishment for the survey of vessels, &c. The estimate should be revised in accordance with the remarks made above with reference to estimate No. 23.

13. In estimate No. 28 of the detailed estimates, a provision of Rs. 2,400 is made for "Subscription to institutions which contribute to the welfare of seamen." This expenditure is sanctioned under the provisions of section 36, sub-section (5), clause (e) of the Indian Ports Act. The question of whether the subscription to the District Charitable Society is a proper charge on the revenues of the Commissioners has been referred for the opinion of the law officers of the Government.

14. The estimated expenditure on the Tramway [Part VI] shows an increase of Rs. 8,021. For the reasons mentioned in commenting on the estimate of receipts from the Tramway, the approval to the estimate of expenditure should be regarded as provisional only.

15. The estimate of expenditure under Part VII, River Survey, Lights, and Channel Buoyage, amounts to Rs. 5,13,646, against Rs. 4,64,095 for the previous year. The difference is due to an increase of Rs. 50,000 in the amount credited to the depreciation account. It is stated that one of the light-vessels will not last for more than another year, and as there is at present only

Rs 50,000 at credit of the depreciation account, there appears to be no likelihood of the charges on the Port Fund appertaining to this Part being reduced in the near future. Having in view the risks to which the property appertaining to this Part is liable, the Government is of opinion that the amount at credit of the depreciation account should be increased as soon as possible.

16 It is proposed to meet the expenditure under Part VII on river surveys, lights, and buoyage of the channels as follows:—

			Rs.
Surplus revenue from the	Jetties	...	2,70,000
Ditto	ditto Inland Vessels' Wharves	...	60,000
Ditto	ditto Strand Bank Lands ...	...	70,000
Ditto	ditto Harbour Master's Department	...	30,000
Ditto	ditto Tramway	...	80,000
Total of surplus revenue transferred from other Parts		...	5,10,000

17. The charges in respect of river surveys, lights, and buoyage of the channels were formerly met from tonnage dues levied under the Indian Ports Act, and in the Resolution on the budget estimate of the Commissioners for 1889-90, it was remarked that on the completion of the Kidderpore Docks the present method of raising the income necessary to defray the charges falling upon the Port Trust might require modification. The whole subject is now engaging the attention of the Government, and the Commissioners are being asked to furnish an estimate (a) of the total annual charges that will fall on the Trust after the completion of the docks, and (b) of the income to be obtained in respect of the several services which will be rendered by the Trust to owners of vessels and goods.

18. The Commissioners may find it necessary, during the latter part of the current year, to take measures to strengthen their revenues so as to provide a reserve fund to meet contingencies which are likely to occur when the dock charges in respect of interest and working expenses fall on those revenues. This question will also be dealt with on receipt of the information which is being called for.

Establishment.

19. A revision of the Tea Warehouse Establishment is proposed. Provision is made for the pay of an Assistant Superintendent on Rs. 250 a month, and for certain changes in the subordinate establishment. It appears that the warehouse is worked at a loss; but as an Assistant Superintendent seems to be actually required, and as his appointment will probably result in increased revenue, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the revision proposed.

20. It is proposed to increase the pay of the Rent Collector from Rs. 90 to Rs. 120. This is a substantial increase, but as the total charge is not great, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions it on condition that it is personal to the present incumbent.

21. It appears that a Chief Clerk on Rs. 100 a month has been entertained in the Harbour Master's Department, and that his salary has been met by an appropriation from the provision of Rs 150, made in grant No. 7 of estimate No. 29, for an engineer, whose services have not been required. The Lieutenant-Governor has no objection to the employment of this clerk, but His Honour must at the same time observe that the action of the Commissioners in employing him without the sanction of the Government was not in accordance with the provisions of the law.

22. In Appendix A, under the head "Accounts Department" (item No. 5), a provision of Rs. 600 a month is made for the pay of the Chief Accountant, and of Rs. 50 a month for his personal allowance. There is at present an Acting Accountant, and it should be stated whether he draws the full pay of the appointment and the personal allowance.

23. In items 17 and 18 of the same appendix, under the head "Workshop Establishment," deductions are made for work done in connection with the Howrah Bridge, and then at the bottom of the page a deduction is again made from the net amount. An explanation of this procedure should be submitted for the information of the Lieutenant-Governor.

24. In Appendix J a provision of Rs. 800 a month is made for the pay of an Assistant Superintendent in the Traffic Department. If, as the Lieutenant-Governor understands, the services of an officer to fill this appointment have not actually been engaged, His Honour desires that no steps may be taken to engage him for the present. In view of the very heavy additional charges that are about to fall on the revenues of the Trust, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes the Commissioners to consider whether the work cannot be conducted without the assistance of this highly paid officer.

25. It is proposed in the draft estimates to meet one-fourth of the officer's pay from the revenues of the Howrah Bridge. The circumstances under which a portion of the Traffic Manager's pay was debited to the Howrah Bridge Fund should be reported for the information of the Government.

26. In item 1 of estimate No. 29 of the detailed estimates, a provision of Rs. 200 a month is made for the personal allowance of a Harbour Master. The officer who held the appointment of Harbour Master died recently, and the question will have to be decided as to whether his successor should get a personal allowance, and, if so, of what amount. The Commissioners should submit their proposals on this subject.

27. The revision of the establishments of the river surveying vessels Resolute, Cuckoo, and Tigris, the anchor-vessel Vulcan, and the spare light-vessel as shown in the schedule of establishments appended to the estimates, is sanctioned.

28. Subject to the remarks contained in the foregoing paragraphs, the Lieutenant-Governor, in pursuance of the powers vested in him by section 50 of Act V of 1870, approves the estimate of income and expenditure of the Commissioners for the year 1890-91. The Commissioners are requested to furnish the Government with copies of the estimates revised in accordance with the instructions contained in this Resolution, and to submit as soon as possible the information asked for therein.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Calcutta, the 29th April 1890.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 25TH OF APRIL 1890.

THE unsettled weather, which was noticed in the report of last week, has continued with very little interruption during the present week. Large and frequent changes have occurred in pressure and temperature, the wind circulation has been almost always cyclonic round a centre well to the west of the province, and thunderstorms with rain, though not very general, have been of daily occurrence.

On Saturday the 19th, the first day of the present week, there was a low-pressure area overlying part of the North-West Provinces and part of Chutia Nagpur. During the previous day a rapid rise of pressure occurred, but the depression remained, and influenced the wind directions in all parts of Bengal, giving south or south-east winds in Lower Bengal and east or north-east winds in North Bengal and Behar. Pressure differed very little from the normal, generally less than a twentieth of an inch above, and very slightly below the normal in Chutia Nagpur. Temperature was largely below the normal in East and North Bengal, and slightly above in Orissa and Behar. On the 19th, rain was general in South-West and North Bengal, and scattered showers fell in the other districts. On the following day pressure continued to rise slowly except in Behar, where the rise was brisk. The low-pressure area was more diffused, wind circulation less regular, but still cyclonic, the centre somewhere in South Behar. Temperature changes on the 20th were not important, and rainfall more scattered. On the 21st a rapid fall of pressure was general, and continued with greater or less rapidity till the end of the week. The depression in the North-West Provinces again intensified, and caused easterly winds over almost the whole of Bengal The change of pressure in Chutia Nagpur and South Behar was very little under a tenth of an inch, and it gradually diminished towards the north-east, defect being about a twentieth of an inch everywhere except in North Behar and North Bengal. Temperature continued to be largely below the normal over the eastern half of the province, and rain was again less general, numerous showers falling only in the Cooch Behar and Julpigoree districts, and in the Sunderbuns and Chittagong. On the 22nd the fall of pressure continued, briskly in Behar and slowly elsewhere. and defect had now increased to a tenth of an inch in Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal, and Orissa. The depression was gradually extending in a south-easterly direction, but as it had the form of a trough extending from the head of the Bay over Chutia Nagpur and the North-Western Provinces, the southerly motion had very little influence on the wind circulation, which remained unchanged till almost the end of the week. Temperature remained low in East and North Bengal till the 23rd, and during the 22nd and 23rd heavy general rain fell in these two districts; but during the last two days of the week, temperature rose very rapidly over the whole of Bengal, and the large defect which had been present for the greater part of the week in East and North Bengal disappeared. On these two days there was a large defect in pressure, everywhere more than a tenth of an inch and in some places very little under two-tenths. On Friday westerly winds were general over South Behar and Chutia Nagpur, and then the lowest pressure was over the head of the Bay near False Point and Saugor Island. Very little rain fell on Thursday and Friday, only a few scattered showers in East and North Bengal.

Pressure—As stated above, has changed rather largely, and was about two-tenths of an inch below the normal at the end of the week. The means for the week are all considerably below the normal, the largest defect being a tenth of an inch at Balasore, and the lowest about a twentieth of an inch over the greater part of North Behar.

Temperature—Was about normal in the western half of the province and four or five degrees below the normal in East and North Bengal till the last two days of the week, when a rapid rise following the almost general stoppage of rain, a large, though somewhat irregular, excess prevailed. The means for the week are above the normal except in East and North Bengal. Excess in Chutia Nagpur, South Behar, and Orissa is over 1°, defect in North Bengal 3·4°, and in East Bengal 1·9°.

The actual temperatures during the week, the range from day to night, and their variations from the normals are seen in the following table; where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts in the province are given together with their normal values:—

Rainfall—General, and in some cases heavy, rain fell in the northern half of North Bengal on every day except the last; in South-West Bengal on Saturday and Sunday, and in East Bengal on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; elsewhere scattered showers have been falling except in part of South Behar and Chutia Nagpur. In the former a few showers fell on the 19th and 20th in Monghyr, South Bhagulpore, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and in the latter only three showers are reported from Manbhoom. The mean rainfall for the week is above the normal in South-West, East and North Bengal and South Behar. The excess fall in East Bengal is 1·6 inches, in North and South-West Bengal 0·3 inch, and the defect in Orissa is 0·3 inch.

Non existence of Harrington rock

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 128 of 1890) that the following information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander G. C. Frederick, H. M. Surveying-vessel Dart, relative to a search made in December 1889 for Harrington rock, reported in 1874 as lying southward of Coquet island, Howick group, and to have less than 6 feet of water on it :—

The Dart was anchored 3 cables south-eastward of the reported position of Harrington rock (lat. 14° 33½′ S , long. 145° 1½′ E.), and the boats sounded closely around for a distance of 7½ cables, without any evidence of shoal water being observed.

The soundings show the bottom as evenly sloping from 6½ fathoms near the track recommended on the west to 8 fathoms on the east, and no appearance of shoal or discoloured water was seen from the masthead. Subsequently the Dart steamed over the reported position.

On two previous occasions the Dart had passed close to the reported position without any indication of shoal water being seen.

Considering that in the original report there was no positive evidence of a rock, and that had one existed it would probably ere this have been again reported, this examination of Dart is considered to disprove the original report, and Harrington rock has therefore been removed from the Admiralty Charts.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 162.

The 5th May 1890.

THE subjoined annual accounts and report of the Road Cess Committee of the district of Darjeeling for the year 1888-89 are published for general information.

W. B. BESTIC,
Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 52, dated Darjeeling, the 28th May 1889.

From—A. W. PAUL, Esq., Deputy Commissioner and Chairman, Darjeeling District Road Cess Committee,

To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

UNDER section 179 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, I have the honour to submit, in duplicate, the following report on the administration of the Road Fund of this district during the cess year ending 31st March 1889, together with the detailed accounts of income and expenditure for that period duly examined by the Sub-Committee of Audit and passed by the District Road Committee at a special meeting held on the 25th May 1889.

2. The balance at credit of the Fund on 1st April 1888, Rs. 8,011-12-9, and the receipts under several heads during the year under review, Rs. 31,950-0-9, made up a grand total of Rs. 39,961-13-6. The total expenditure during that period was Rs. 29,550-2-4, leaving a balance of Rs. 10,411-11-2 available for expenditure during the current year.

3. Assessment and Collections.—During the year under report, out of the current demand of Rs. 21,621, Rs. 899 were realised in advance during the previous year and Rs. 20,722 collected during the year, leaving no balance unrealised at the close of the year. A further sum of Rs. 62, being part of arrears outstanding on the 31st March 1888, plus Rs. 1,026 collected in advance for following years, made up a total collection of Rs. 21,810, which was all credited in the Road Fund account during the year of report. Of the total sum of Rs. 63 shewn as balance unrealised at the close of the cess year 1887-88 in the report submitted with this office No. 55, dated the 29th May 1888, only Rs. 62 were collected, as stated above, during the year: the difference of Re. 1 is owing to a permanent remission granted as per Commissioner's No. 71M, dated the 21th April 1888.

4. Working of the Committee.—The number of meetings of the District Committee held during the year under review was five. The average attendance was 3 out of 8 official and 5 out of 18 non-official members. The Terai Branch Committee met five times during the above period, and the average attendance, as reported by the Terai Vice-Chairman, was 3 out of 3 official and 5 out of 13 non-official members.

5. List of Roads.—Practically no alterations were made in the list of district roads mentioned in the previous report. A schedule of all roads under the control of the Committee was prepared in accordance with the provisions of sections 141 and 143 of the Act, altering only the numbers and classifications of certain roads and giving a detailed description of all roads as to average width of metal, total waterway of culverts and bridges, road-side lands, &c.

6. Public Works—(a) Original.—The construction of the suspension bridge over the Rongbong river near Sungma was completed during the year at a cost of Rs. 9,837-1-1. The amount originally estimated for and sanctioned by the Local Government was Rs. 6,106. The cause of the excess of Rs. 3,731-1-1 over the sanctioned estimated figure was due to the fact that at one of their inspection tours, while the work was in progress, the Superintending Engineer, Eastern Circle, Executive Engineer, Darjeeling Division, and the Chairman of the Committee suggested certain additional works not included in the estimate, which were carried out with the view to make the bridge extra strong and safe, and a revised estimate was accordingly framed and forwarded for sanction of Government. In this connection, it may further be stated that Messrs A. and J. Main and Company, who contracted for the supply of the iron works, subsequently demanded an enhanced price for the same owing to the increased rate of exchange on articles imported from Glasgow.

The District Engineer's project for bridging the stream at Pulbazar at the old site with a suitably larger span (170 feet) was sanctioned by the Government of Bengal during the year under report, and the work of construction is in progress. A timber cantilever bridge of 70 feet span was also put up over the river Rungnoo at a cost of Rs. 300 during the year

(b) Repairs.—Rs. 4,354-15-5 were spent on Hill roads, and Rs. 2,144-0-6 on Terai roads, making a total expenditure of Rs. 6,498-15-11. Besides the above, a further sum of Rs. 917-10-1 was spent on village roads (surface tracks—Class V of printed list of roads) in the Terai, and Rs. 427-8-6 in repairing bridges in the Hills. As last year, the repairs to Hill roads were chiefly executed by the Planter members of the Committee, who have, as before, uniformly and cheerfully rendered every possible assistance to the Department.

Out of the total number of 28 district and village roads in the Terai, 10 were directly under the charge of the District Engineer, and the rest apportioned to the several members of the Committee, the Vice-Chairman of the Terai Branch Committee exercising the scrutiny as regards expenditure towards their maintenance as heretofore.

7. Arboriculture.—As reported last year, the whole of the work under this head was undertaken by the Darjeeling Improvement Fund, there being no expenditure whatever incurred by the Committee.

8. Working of the Cess Act.—The cess was levied, as last year, at the maximum rate, and the general results of the year were satisfactory, the percentage of collection having amounted to 100 per cent. on the demands.

The Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway Company was exempted from the operation of the Cess Act (vide notification in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 23rd January 1889). This exemption, it may be remarked, will lessen the income of the Committee by Rs. 4,935-3-10, but a representation has been made to Government on the subject.

9. Establishment.—I can offer no remarks as I only rejoined on the 18th February 1889.

10. Inspection of Accounts.—The accounts of the Committee's office were inspected by the Local Auditor in June last. It is satisfactory to note that no fault was found with the manner in which the books and papers of the office were kept by the present Accountant

A. WERNICKE,
Vice-Chairman.

Explanatory Memorandum accompanying the Annual Account of 1888-89.

RECEIPTS.

Provincial rates.

The increase in the collection of "Cess on lands" and "Cess on mines and railways" is due to the revaluation of certain estates in the district.

Miscellaneous.

Rupees 500 under head "Miscellaneous" was contributed by the Darjeeling Municipality for the erection of a bridge over the Little Rungit at Pulbazar, which is an important communication for the food-supply of the Station.

The small decrease in income under the head "Contribution to communications out of ten per cent. collection from Government and other estates" calls for no explanation.

EXPENDITURE.

Administration.

(a). The percentage cost of establishment for the office of account and control has been calculated at 1·54 per cent. on the total actual income of the fund, and sanction has been obtained for the excess payment. (Vide Commissioner's No. 60P.W.ct., dated 15th January 1889.)

Public Works—Original.

(b). After the commencement of the work of construction of the bridge over the Rongbong on road No. 13, some suggestions in connection with the same were made by the Executive and Superintending Engineers and by the Chairman of the Committee, necessitating the submission of a revised estimate for Rs. 9,847 to the Local Government for sanction. The sum of Rs. 1,989-10-2 being excess over estimate included in the above estimate and provided in the year 1888-89, sanction having been obtained for the provision (vide Commissioner's No. 93P.W., dated 24th November 1888.)

(c). Same explanation as in (b). Only with this exception that the sums of Rs. 6*6 8-6 and Rs 46-8-0 were provided at different periods, sanction having been each time obtained for the same. (Vide Commissioner's No. 93P W., dated 24th November 1888).

(d). When the budget estimate for 1888-89 was framed, no provision was made for the construction of the Pulbazar bridge; but as the work was thought to be of the greatest importance and utility to the general public, the Committee considered it best to undertake it at once, and accordingly allotted for it Rs. 500 out of reserve for expenditure up to the close of the year. (Vide Commissioner's No. 1P.W., dated 1st April 1889.)

Repairs.

(e). The excess of Rs. 93-8 was provided for with the approval of the Committee from the Reserve fund, and sanction to it was accorded by Commissioner's No. 29P.W.ct., dated 28th September 1888

(f). Sanction for the excess payment for this road was obtained by transferring Rs. 16 from the savings on road No. 31, Old Siliguri to Rangapani. (Vide Commissioner's No 35P W., dated 22nd June 1889.)

(g). The expenditure of Rs. 11-9 4 on the Tepu-Nuxulbari road was effected from an adjustment of a sum advanced in 1887-88, in which year there was a grant provided for the repairs of the road. This expenditure was, however, sanctioned by the Committee, and the amount transferred from the savings on road No. 41. (Vide above letter.)

(h). No provisions were at first made for these two roads, but subsequently repairs on them becoming necessary, the Committee sanctioned a grant of Rs 50 for each road by transferring the amount from the total grant provided for "Urgent repairs to Terai roads in general"

The budget allotments on some of the District and Terai village roads, though actually advanced and expended on the works in question, could not be entered in the Committee's books owing to detailed accounts not having reached the office in time. These will be adjusted during the current year and noticed in the next report.

A. WERNICKE,
Vice-Chairman.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first two volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III is in course of preparation, and will contain the letters D, E, F, and G. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued consisting of an index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

 No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.*

2. Upon receipt of an application in the prescribed form duly filled in, the Surveyor will fix the date and hour at which the survey shall be commenced, and will forward to the applicant information of the date and hour so fixed, together with a list of the requisite preparations for the survey of the steam-ship. The said information and list shall be in the form No. 2 hereto annexed.

In cases where two Surveyors make the survey, the Engineer-Surveyor will survey the engines, boilers, and all the machinery required to be surveyed under the Act; the Shipwright-Surveyor will inspect the hull, equipments and passenger accommodation, measure and determine the number of passengers the vessel is fit to carry, and see that the certificates of the master, mates, and engineers or engine-driver are such as is required by the Act; also that the lights and fog-signals are in accordance with the regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea.

10. With a view to obviate inconvenience and delay, owners and masters whose vessels are in dock or undergoing repairs should communicate at once with the Surveyors, if their vessels have afterwards to be surveyed.

Application for survey.

1. Every application for the survey of an inland steam-vessel shall be made between the hours of 10 A.M. and 5 P.M. on any day except Sundays and Government holidays, on a printed sheet in the Form No. 1 hereto annexed, which will be supplied for this purpose at the Surveyor's office to the Surveyor at the nearest place of survey, and should be made at least three clear days before the day on which it is desired that the survey shall take place.

2. Upon receipt of an application in the prescribed form duly filled in, the Surveyor will fix the date and hour at which the survey shall be commenced, and will forward to the applicant information of the date and hour so fixed, together with a list of the requisite preparations for the survey of the steam-vessel. The said information and list shall be in the Form No. 2 hereto annexed.

Time and place of survey.

3. Upon due notice or application from the owner or master, surveys shall be made by the Surveyor or Surveyors appointed under the Act on any day in the year, with the exception of Sundays and Government holidays, at Calcutta, Chittagong, Patna, Cuttack, Goalundo, Kooshtea, Dehree, Khoolna, Sahebgunge, Naraingunge, and at such other places as may from time to time be declared by the Local Government to be places of survey. If circumstances admit, surveys may be made on holidays.

Surveyors' duties.

4. In cases where two Surveyors are employed, the Engineer-Surveyor will survey the engines, boilers, and all the machinery required to be surveyed under the Act; the Shipwright-Surveyor will inspect the hull, equipments, and passenger accommodation, measure and determine the number of passengers the vessel is fit to carry, and see that the certificates of the master, and engineer or engine-driver are such as are required by the Act; also that the lights and fog-signals are in accordance with the regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea.

5 The Surveyors' declarations and the certificate of survey shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed and numbered 3 and 4 respectively.

6. Every declaration shall be sent, in accordance with section 10 of the Act, by the owner or master to whom it is given, to the officer appointed under section 10, sub-section (1) of the Act.

7. The notice to be given under section 11, sub-section (3) of the Act, to the owner or master when a certificate is ready for delivery shall be given in the Form No. 5 hereto annexed, under the signature of the officer to whom this function has been delegated by the Local Government under section 11, sub-section (4), clause (b) of the Act

8. If every part of the steam-vessel is not ready for survey at the time so appointed or if the requisite preparations have not been made in accordance with the list forwarded to the applicant under Rule 2, the Surveyor may fix some other convenient time for the survey.

9. If the Surveyor is unavoidably prevented from being present at the time fixed, the earliest possible information shall be sent to the applicant, and some other time, convenient to the applicant and to the Surveyor, shall be fixed for the survey

10. With a view to obviate inconvenience and delay, owners and masters whose vessels are in dock or undergoing repairs should communicate at once with the Surveyors if their vessels have afterwards to be surveyed.

11. If a Surveyor finds that any defect exists in the hull machinery, or equipments of an inland steam-vessel, he shall, before refusing to give a declaration regarding the vessel under section 9 of the Act, address a letter in the Form No. 6 hereto annexed to the owner or master of the steam-vessel, pointing out such defect and the repairs, &c., necessary to make good the same, and to enable him to grant a declaration

RULES FOR CONTROLLING THE TRANSPORT OF EMIGRANTS TO THE LABOUR DISTRICTS OF ASSAM.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 17th April, 1890.

RESOLUTION.

THE rules sanctioned last year under Bengal Act I of 1889 provide for the inspection of places of accommodation for emigrants in the mofussil, but no reference is made in them to the buildings maintained for that purpose in Calcutta. In practice, these have been considered as subject to inspection by the Superintendent of Emigration, and it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be advisable to recognize this arrangement by rule.

2. The importance of regulating the railway journey was recognized from the first, and great improvements have been introduced with the consent of the railway authorities. It is now considered expedient to give to these arrangements the force of rules, particularly as that course has been adopted with regard to emigrants registered under Act I of 1882. Where the precautions it is now proposed to adopt are more detailed, it has been deemed advisable, for the sake of conformity, to amend also the rules under Act I of 1882.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor accordingly proposes to issue the following rules, any objections to which will be considered on the 28th May next :—

Rules to be issued in addition to the existing rules under Act I (B.C.) of 1889.

18. The daily despatch of emigrants by train shall be previously arranged for by the forwarding agent with the railway authorities concerned, so as to prevent overcrowding by the securing of sufficient carriage accommodation for the whole number of emigrants intending to travel.

19. The agent shall provide for emigrants started on a railway journey after 9 A.M. a cooked meal, and for those started at or before that hour a dry meal instead, consisting of bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of ten years. Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than six hours, bread or biscuit and sugar in the same proportions shall be given by the agent for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey.

20. When a medical officer has been appointed by Government to examine emigrants, no emigrants shall be put into the train without being inspected and passed as fit to undertake the journey by such officer. The medical officer will report any breach of rule 19 which may come to his notice.

21. When despatching emigrants by train, the purest drinking water obtainable shall be supplied by the agent in a sufficient number of suitable vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriages. Emigrants shall be afforded opportunities for leaving their carriages at three selected watering-stations between Sara and Parbutipur, one-third of the carriages at a time being emptied to admit of the station latrines being used and of additional supplies of drinking-water being obtained.

22. Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated in third class carriages specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods wagons attached to passenger trains only, and the number in each such carriage or goods wagon shall in no case exceed the regulation number.

23. The train journey of emigrants under conveyance from recruiting districts direct to Dhubri or to Goalundo shall be performed by the Hooghly-Naihati route.

24. If cholera occurs on the journey by train, the patient shall as soon as possible be removed, by and at the expense of the railway authorities, to the nearest cholera hospital or other suitable place for medical treatment; and particulars of the case, furnishing name of emigrant, batch to which belonging, and depôt from which originally despatched, shall be forwarded by the station-master to the officers concerned.

5A. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Inland Emigration to inspect places of accommodation provided for emigrants in Calcutta.

Rules to be substituted for the existing Rules 64, 65 and 69 under the Inland Emigration Act, I of 1882.

64. The daily despatch of emigrants shall be previously arranged for by the contractor or forwarding agent with the railway authorities concerned, so as to prevent overcrowding by the securing of sufficient carriage accommodation for the whole number of emigrants intending to travel.

65. The contractors or garden sardar shall provide for emigrants started on a railway journey after 9 A.M. a cooked meal, and for those started at or before that hour a dry meal instead, consisting of bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of ten years. Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than six hours, bread or biscuit and sugar in the same proportions shall be given by the contractor or garden sardar for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey.

69. When a medical officer has been appointed by Government to examine emigrants, no emigrants shall be put into the train without being inspected and passed as fit to undertake the journey by such officer.

When despatching emigrants by train, the purest drinking-water obtainable shall be supplied by contractors or forwarding agents in a sufficient number of suitable vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriages. In the absence of latrine arrangements, emigrants shall be afforded opportunities for leaving their carriages at three selected watering-stations between Sara and Parbutipur, one-third of the carriages at a time being emptied to admit of the station latrines being used and of additional supplies of drinking-water being obtained.

Rules to be issued in addition to the existing rules under Act I of 1882.

Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated in third class carriages that are specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods wagons attached to passenger trains only, and the number in each such carriage or goods wagon shall in no case exceed the regulation number.

The train journey of emigrants under conveyance from recruiting districts direct to Dhubri or to Goalundo shall be performed by the Hooghly-Naihati route.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

OUTTURN OF RABI AND SPECIAL CROPS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1889-90.

THE following papers are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT,
AGRICULTURE;
CALCUTTA,
The 5th May, 1890.

P. NOLAN,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Outturn of rabi and special crops in Bengal for the year 1889-90.

THE present season has been unfavourable to the rabi crops in some respects. The excessive rain which fell in the middle of November last destroyed the seed of rabi crops, which had been recently sown, and made it necessary in many places to have the lands sown over again. The injury from this cause extended over the whole of Orissa and Bengal Proper, except the districts of Dinagepore, Julpigoree, and Darjeeling in North Bengal. It is estimated that in Orissa and Bengal, taken together, fully one-third of the rabi crop was lost on account of the excessive rain in November. Deficiency of rain during the time of preparing and sowing rabi lands was, on the other hand, felt in several districts of the Patna Division and in Dinagepore, while the absence of rain in December, January, and February reduced the outturn more or less in all districts of the Patna, Bhagulpore, and Chota Nagpore Divisions. But for the latter cause, a full average crop could have been reaped in these divisions. Taking the whole of Bengal, the outturn of the rabi crops of the present season may be estimated at 13 annas.

2. Statement IV annexed to this note shows the estimated outturn of the more important special crops, such as sugarcane, tobacco, poppy, indigo, mulberry, jute, &c.

Sugarcane suffered more or less from deficiency of rain in all districts of the Burdwan Division, except Beerbhoom in Nuddea, Dinagepore and Julpigoree in Bhagulpore, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and probably also in Patna, Shahabad, Lohardugga, and Manbhoom. Injury from floods is reported from Dacca and parts of Nuddea, Jessore, and Moorshedabad. In the districts of the Orissa Division, and in Midnapore and parts of Hooghly, this crop was largely damaged by excessive rain in November. An average crop was reaped in the districts of the Patna Division, except in parts of Patna and Shahabad.

The tobacco crop was below the average in Rajshahye and Dinagepore, but is estimated to have yielded a 12 to 16 annas crop in the important tobacco-growing districts of Rungpore, Bogra, and Julpigoree. In the Mynagoree tehsil of the Julpigoree district the crop is reported to have been very seriously damaged by hailstones.

3. Poppy was injured to some extent by deficiency of rain during the cold weather in Patna, Shahabad, Mozufferpore, and Bhagulpore. In Gya, Durbhunga, Sarun, Chumparun, and Monghyr it yielded a nearly full crop.

Mulberry did fairly well in Moorshedabad and Midnapore, but in Rajshahye, Bogra, Nuddea, and Beerbhoom the yield is estimated to be about three-fourths of an average crop.

M. FINUCANE,
Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

The extremely low outturn of rubbee crops in the Chooadanga and Ranaghat sub divisions cannot be wholly accounted for by the excessive rainfall of November Arhar, moong, and kalai, all of which were in full growth at the time of the November rain, could not possibly be injured to the extent of 14 annas by the excessive rain in Chooadanga. Saran ...	Sudder	998	850	35	Barley	16 annas	12 annas	The weather was quite favourable from the beginning. Had there been a little rain in December the outturn would have been a bumper one. The increase in the estimated area under rubbee was due to the fact that in many places where the rice and bhadoi crops were destroyed by inundation, the land occupied by them was quickly ploughed again on the waters receding and rubbee crops were sown.	From the rainfall records the weather does not appear to have been wholly favourable to rubbee crops. There was deficient rainfall at sowing time, the entire months of October and the first half of November having been rainless. Again the three following months of December, January, and February were perfectly rainless. A 16-anna harvest seems therefore to be an over estimate.

Musoor	15 annas	6 annas	Unlike the last year, the rainfall this year was favourable from the sowing time till the plants attained the state of maturity, when rain held off altogether. This accounts for the increase in the estimated outturn as compared with that of the last year.	The rainfall was thoroughly favourable up to the third week of November, since then no rain fell during the remainder of the season. Under the circumstances a 15-anna crop cannot be looked for. The extremely low yield of arhar in Palamow is not intelligible. This crop could not have been much affected by drought in December and January.

No. 2722, dated Calcutta, the 25th April 1890.

From—W. CONNAN, Esq., and W. H. KING, Esq.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

IN accordance with the orders of the Government of Bengal, memorandum No. 1042 (Marine) of the 22nd instant, we have the honour to report that the 12th quarterly inspection of the Kidderpore Dock Works was made on the 24th instant.

2. The usual tabular statement and the index plan showing the work done during the quarter ending 31st March 1890, and the total amount executed from the commencement, which have been prepared by the Superintending Engineer of the Dock Works, are already with Government.

3. The progress during the quarter is under noted.

PERMANENT WORKS.

Sixty-feet Lock.—This work is practically completed, hanging the riverside gates only remaining to be done.

Eighty-feet Entrance.—The gates are being erected, the work being otherwise almost finished.

Double Entrance to Dock No. 1.—This work is nearly completed, the gates being nearly all hung. Arrangements are being made for erecting the swing bridge.

Tidal Basin.—The unfinished portion of the north-east corner has been founded, and the short gap at the south-west corner will soon be taken in hand.

Graving Dock.—One and-a-half lakh cubic feet of brickwork was done during the quarter, and the work is, say, $\frac{7}{8}$ths completed.

Government Graving Dock.—Very good progress has been made with this Dock during the quarter, half the area being founded, and 44 per cent. of the masonry done.

Dock No. 1.—The masonry of the Dock is nearly completed, 3 per cent. only remaining to be done. Over 36$\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of excavation were taken out during the quarter.

Boat Canal.—Lift lock finished with the exception of the erection of gates and building revetments. Diamond Harbour Road bridge finished with the exception of the approaches. Tollygunge Circular Road bridge finished except the approaches and erection of main girders, the staging for which is ready and fitting begun. The siphon culvert under the canal is nearly done. The lock at Chetla is in progress, the excavation for the foundations being nearly completed. The supply sluice at Chetla has its platform built.

Subsidiary work.—The chimney shaft and accumulator tower of the Hydraulic Engine-house are approaching completion. The foundation for the Graving Dock Engine-house will shortly be begun, and the erection of the main Pumping Station machinery has commenced. The foundations of one cargo-shed have been got in.

Expenditure.—The total expenditure up to the end of the quarter under review is reported as Rs. 1,71,00,838-10-11, the expenditure on works being Rs. 1,45,22,906-7-10, and on land Rs. 25,77,932-3-1.

Sanitary.—The daily average number of workpeople employed during the quarter was 8,189, amongst whom there were 36 deaths, the death-rate being 17·96 per 1,000 per annum.

GENERAL REMARKS.

We are of opinion that good progress has been made with the works, and, so far as we have been able to judge from a quarterly inspection, the work done during the quarter is sound and substantial.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last [illegible] years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 2nd of May 1890.

CALCUTTA, the 6th May 1890.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 2ND OF MAY 1890.

WEATHER has been more settled during the present week than for some time past, the only days when rain fell, beyond very scattered showers, being the first day of the week and again towards the end of the week in East and North Bengal. The most noticeable feature of the weather has been the very low temperature which prevailed on Saturday and Sunday, the 26th and 27th of April, which commencing in the north-west on the 26th gradually spread over the whole province. Some very low temperatures were reported from Behar on the morning of the 27th, from almost every station on the 28th, and from Sibsagar, Silchar, and Chittagong on the 29th Pressure has on an average again been below the normal, but not to such an extent as during the previous week.

On Saturday the 26th the low-pressure area which had been gradually moving in an easterly direction was over the Sandheads, and as it had a widely extended influence on the wind circulation, giving westerly winds over the whole of Behar, and a cyclonic circulation at the head of the Bay, the abnormal temperature which was then commencing in Behar must have been due to its influence. Pressure was rising rapidly, but there was still a moderately large defect at the head of the Bay and at eastern stations. Temperature was falling, but was above the normal except in the west of Behar at some stations of which large defects had already appeared. Scattered showers fell in all districts, and with the exception of the Maldah and Dinagepore districts, general rain fell in North Bengal. On Sunday the 27th pressure continued to rise very rapidly in Orissa and briskly to rapidly over the western half of the province. Pressure was lowest in East Bengal, but the depression had almost disappeared; westerly winds, however, were blowing over the whole of Bengal and Orissa, and showers of rain fell in East Bengal and the eastern districts of South-West Bengal. On Monday normal conditions recommenced; pressure was falling briskly, but the distribution was very nearly normal. Rain practically ceased, a few scattered showers falling in South-West and North Bengal. Very low temperature then prevailed, but a rapid rise was setting in. During the remainder of the week very nearly normal conditions prevailed. Pressure oscillated about the normal; temperature was generally 2° to 4° above, and the wind circulation was what usually obtains at this season. The weather in East Bengal was slightly unsettled on Thursday and Friday, showers and a low temperature generally prevailing.

Pressure—Has been, on an average for the week, everywhere below the normal, except in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The largest difference is about a twentieth of an inch at some of the stations in East and North Bengal, but generally defect was not over two-hundredths of an inch.

Temperature.—As stated above, temperature conditions were very abnormal in the early part of the week. On the 27th, some of the minimum temperatures registered were—Chupra 61°, Arrah and Hazaribagh about 66°, and Dehree, Buxar, and Bhagulpore about 67°. On the 28th, Darjeeling reported 41·7°, Purneah 63°, and several other stations under 65°, while over almost the whole of Bengal temperature on the night of the 27th was under 70°. Defect amounted to ten or fifteen degrees at some stations, but it rapidly disappeared, and there was generally excess after the first two days. The means for the week are very nearly normal. In Chutia Nagpur there was defect of 3°, in Assam and Orissa excess of 1·5° and 1° respectively, while in the other districts excess did not exceed a few tenths of a degree.

Rainfall.—Frequent showers fell in the early part of the week in East and North Bengal and in the eastern districts of South-West Bengal. From Sunday till Thursday there was a period of dry weather, after which showers again commenced in the eastern districts. Over the western half of the province very scattered showers fell, and many districts have been rainless; these are Monghyr, Bhagulpore, Sonthal Pergunnahs, Hazaribagh, Manbhoom, Moorshedabad, and the greater part of Orissa. The mean falls for the large subdivisions are East and North Bengal 0·8 inch, South-West Bengal 0·3 inch, North Behar 0·05 inch, and the other districts one or two-hundredths of an inch. Rainfall has been everywhere deficient.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 2nd of May 1890 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 8 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·2° lower; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE number of deaths registered during the month of February 1890 in 45 districts in Bengal amounted to 112,524, against 124,642 in the preceding month, 96,187 in February 1889, and an average of 98,255 in the corresponding months of the previous five years, 1885—89. These figures correspond to annual death-rates of 20·40, 22·68, 17·52 and 17·88, respectively. It will be seen that the death-rate for February 1890 was 2·28 less than that of the preceding month, but 2·88 in excess of the mortality of February 1889, and 2·52 in excess of the average rate of the corresponding month of past five years, 1885—89.

2. The highest death-rates were returned from the following districts. The rates of the corresponding month of 1889 are also given for the purpose of comparison :—

Districts.	Ratio per mille during— Feb. 1890.	Feb. 1889.	Districts.	Ratio per mille during— Feb. 1890.	Feb. 1889.
Poori	45·36	19·44	Dinajpur ...	27·60	25·68
Cuttack	34·92	13·44	Hughli ...	27·24	22·20
Noakhali	34·56	27·00	Howrah ...	26·64	22·20

Backerganj	27·84	27·84	Midnapore ...	25·20	21·36

3. The following table compares the rates of mortality under the several registered death-causes during the three periods, February 1890, 1889, and the average for that month of the past five years, 1885—89 :—

	Ratio per mille during— February 1890.	February 1889.	Mean of previous five years, 1885—89
Cholera	1·44	·84	·96
Small-pox	·12	·12	·10
Fever	14·64	12·72	13·08
Bowel-complaints	·72	·48	·60
Injury	·12	·12	·12
Other causes	3·12	3·00	2·76

The only noticeable point indicated by the above figures is that cholera and fever were more fatal in February 1890 than in either of the past periods with which that month is compared.

4. The districts in which the greatest loss of life occurred from cholera and fever were—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.

24-Pergunnahs	2·40

Small-pox and "Other causes" prevailed with marked severity only in the Poori district (mortality 2·88 and 20·28 per 1,000 of population respectively).

5. The mortality of the month, according to sex, class and age, was as follows :—

PAYMENT OF RENT BY MEANS OF POSTAL MONEY-ORDER IN THE BURDWAN, RAJSHAHYE, PRESIDENCY, AND DACCA DIVISIONS.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 8th May, 1890.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Government order No. 821—325LR, dated the 4th March, 1890, enquiring of the Board of Revenue how the system of payment of rent by means of postal money-order has worked in the Burdwan Division where it was experimentally introduced.

Letter from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, No. 23RL, dated the 10th idem, and enclosures, recommending the extension of the system to that division.

Letter from the Board of Revenue, No. 279A, dated the 11th April, 1890, and enclosures, reporting on the results of the experiment.

Read again—

Government notification of the 16th October, 1886, promulgating rules for the payment of revenue not exceeding Rs. 50 in amount a year by means of postal money-order in the Burdwan and Dacca Divisions.

Government notification of the 2nd April, 1887, extending the above rules to all the districts in the Lower Provinces.

Government Resolution of the 20th March, 1888, further extending the above rules to all demands on account of land revenue, of whatever amount, and also to zemindari and other cesses.

Government Resolution, dated the 19th July, 1889, introducing experimentally the system in the Burdwan Division of payment of rent by means of postal money-order.

The Committee appointed in 1885 to draft rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885, recommended that the question whether the Lieutenant-Governor, in the exercise of the discretion given to him by section 54 (2) of that Act, should authorize payment of rent by means of postal money-order might stand over till the system had been first tried in the case of the payment of revenue due to Government. This trial has since been made with very favourable results, in consequence of which the payment of revenue by money-order, at first approved for selected districts only, has been authorized for Bengal generally. As a further test, the payment of rent by money-order was sanctioned experimentally for six months in the Burdwan Division, and it is now reported that the measure has proved beneficial. The Board recommend the general adoption of the system; and the Lieutenant-Governor, while unwilling to extend too rapidly a change which may have important consequences, considers that the power conferred by the Act should be exercised in the divisions which in their circumstances most resemble Burdwan.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is accordingly pleased to direct, under section 54(2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885, that from the 1st of July next payment of rent by means of postal money-order is authorized in the Burdwan, Rajshahye, Presidency, and Dacca Divisions. The rules of the Postal Department on the subject are published for general information.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution, with its annexures, be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rule under section 54.—From and after the 1st July, 1890, tenants are authorized to pay rent by postal money-order for lands situated within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners of Burdwan, Rajshahye, Presidency, and Dacca.

Non-existence of Harrington rock.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 128 of 1890) that the following information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander G. C. Frederick, H. M. Surveying-vessel Dart, relative to a search made in December 1889 for Harrington rock, reported in 1874 as lying southward of Coquet island, Howick group, and to have less than 6 feet of water on it :—

The Dart was anchored 3 cables south-eastward of the reported position of Harrington rock (lat. 14° 33¼′ S , long. 145° 1½′ E.), and the boats sounded closely around for a distance of 7½ cables, without any evidence of shoal water being observed.

The soundings show the bottom as evenly sloping from 6½ fathoms near the track recommended on the west to 8 fathoms on the east, and no appearance of shoal or discoloured water was seen from the masthead. Subsequently the Dart steamed over the reported position.

On two previous occasions the Dart had passed close to the reported position without any indication of shoal water being seen.

Considering that in the original report there was no positive evidence of a rock, and that had one existed it would probably ere this have been again reported, this examination of Dart is considered to disprove the original report, and Harrington rock has therefore been removed from the Admiralty Charts.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first two volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III is in course of preparation, and will contain the letters D, E, F, and G. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued consisting of an index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

 No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.*

RULES FOR CONTROLLING THE TRANSPORT OF EMIGRANTS TO THE LABOUR DISTRICTS OF ASSAM.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 17th April, 1890.

RESOLUTION.

THE rules sanctioned last year under Bengal Act I of 1859 provide for the inspection of places of accommodation for emigrants in the mofussil, but no reference is made in them to the buildings maintained for that purpose in Calcutta. In practice, these have been considered as subject to inspection by the Superintendent of Emigration, and it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be advisable to recognize this arrangement by rule.

2. The importance of regulating the railway journey was recognized from the first, and great improvements have been introduced with the consent of the railway authorities. It is now considered expedient to give to these arrangements the force of rules, particularly as that course has been adopted with regard to emigrants registered under Act I of 1882. Where the precautions it is now proposed to adopt are more detailed, it has been deemed advisable, for the sake of conformity, to amend also the rules under Act I of 1882.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor accordingly proposes to issue the following rules, any objections to which will be considered on the 28th May next :—

Rules to be issued in addition to the existing rules under Act I (B.C.) of 1889.

18. The daily despatch of emigrants by train shall be previously arranged for by the forwarding agent with the railway authorities concerned, so as to prevent overcrowding by the securing of sufficient carriage accommodation for the whole number of emigrants intending to travel.

19. The agent shall provide for emigrants started on a railway journey after 9 A.M. a cooked meal, and for those started at or before that hour a dry meal instead, consisting of bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of ten years. Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than six hours, bread or biscuit and sugar in the same proportions shall be given by the agent for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey.

20. When a medical officer has been appointed by Government to examine emigrants, no emigrants shall be put into the train without being inspected and passed as fit to undertake the journey by such officer. The medical officer will report any breach of rule 19 which may come to his notice.

21. When despatching emigrants by train, the purest drinking water obtainable shall be supplied by the agent in a sufficient number of suitable vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriages. Emigrants shall be afforded opportunities for leaving their carriages at three selected watering-stations between Sara and Parbutipur, one-third of the carriages at a time being emptied to admit of the station latrines being used and of additional supplies of drinking-water being obtained.

22. Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated in third class carriages specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods wagons attached to passenger trains only, and the number in each such carriage or goods wagon shall in no case exceed the regulation number.

23. The train journey of emigrants under conveyance from recruiting districts direct to Dhubri or to Goalundo shall be performed by the Hooghly-Naihati route.

24. If cholera occurs on the journey by train, the patient shall as soon as possible be removed, by and at the expense of the railway authorities, to the nearest cholera hospital or other suitable place for medical treatment; and particulars of the case, furnishing name of emigrant, batch to which belonging, and depôt from which originally despatched, shall be forwarded by the station-master to the officers concerned.

5A. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Inland Emigration to inspect places of accommodation provided for emigrants in Calcutta.

Rules to be substituted for the existing Rules 64, 65 and 69 under the Inland Emigration Act, I of 1882.

64. The daily despatch of emigrants shall be previously arranged for by the contractor or forwarding agent with the railway authorities concerned, so as to prevent overcrowding by the securing of sufficient carriage accommodation for the whole number of emigrants intending to travel.

65. The contractors or garden sardar shall provide for emigrants started on a railway journey after 9 A.M. a cooked meal, and for those started at or before that hour a dry meal instead, consisting of bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above ten years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of ten years. Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than six hours, bread or biscuit and sugar in the same proportions shall be given by the contractor or garden sardar for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey.

69. When a medical officer has been appointed by Government to examine emigrants, no emigrants shall be put into the train without being inspected and passed as fit to undertake the journey by such officer.

When despatching emigrants by train, the purest drinking-water obtainable shall be supplied by contractors or forwarding agents in a sufficient number of suitable vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriages. In the absence of latrine arrangements, emigrants shall be afforded opportunities for leaving their carriages at three selected watering-stations between Sara and Parbutipur, one-third of the carriages at a time being emptied to admit of the station latrines being used and of additional supplies of drinking-water being obtained.

Rules to be issued in addition to the existing rules under Act I of 1882.

Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated in third class carriages that are specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods wagons attached to passenger trains only, and the number in each such carriage or goods wagon shall in no case exceed the regulation number.

The train journey of emigrants under conveyance from recruiting districts direct to Dhubri or to Goalundo shall be performed by the Hooghly-Naihati route.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1890.

Meteorology of the month.—Weather conditions, especially during the latter half of the month, have been very different in the various districts. Thus in East and North Bengal rainfall has been above the average and temperature below, while in the other districts rainfall has been deficient and temperature in excess. This may be due to the position of the low-pressure area which generally lies over Bengal, to the centre of which the three sets of winds seem to converge. In consequence of the high pressure in the early part of the month, the area of lowest pressure was either close up to the hills, in which case westerly winds were blowing over the whole province and no rain fell, or the area was to the west of the boundary of Bengal, and then the westerly winds blowing across Chutia Nagpur or down the Gangetic valley were feeble. It would seem that the rainfall in the western districts in the month of April is due to the interaction of the Bay current and the westerly current, and as the latter has been feeble during the month under review, the rainfall on that side of the province has also been below the normal, while the continued cloudless weather has given higher temperatures than usual. Again in the eastern districts, the current from the Bay has moved in a more northerly direction, and the interaction with the Assam current may have been more pronounced than usual; hence the heavier rainfall in East and North Bengal. In the early part of the month pressure had commenced to rise, and with various small oscillations the rise went on during the first half of the month, during which time there was lower pressure in the North West Provinces and Central India than in Bengal. The weather had the ordinary hot season characteristics, high temperature, clear skies, and generally southerly winds in the lower districts and easterly in North Bengal and Behar. By the middle of the month pressure was again below the normal, and it continued so almost till the end of the month. Two small depressions appeared during the third and fourth weeks, the first about the 17th, when winds were south-easterly in South-West and East Bengal and general rain fell in the eastern districts, but only very scattered showers elsewhere. The depression moved from the west to about the centre of the province and then filled up. The second one commenced on the 24th to the west of Chutia Nagpur, and moving in a south-easterly direction was over the head of the Bay on the 26th and in Arakan on the 27th. During the ten days following the 17th the weather in East and North Bengal was unsettled. Severe thunderstorms with heavy rain were of daily occurrence, and one of these, in the neighbourhood of Mymensingh, seems to have acquired the violence of a tornado. Thus during the month, pressure was high in the early part, fine clear weather prevailing, and low during the latter half, when winds from Assam strengthening and those in Lower Bengal becoming easterly, showery weather with low temperature set in, while in the other districts only occasional scattered showers occurred.

Pressure.—The steady rise which had set in at the end of March continued till the end of the first week of April, when there was a large excess in the centre of the province, gradually diminishing towards the boundaries. At Maldah and Serajgunge it exceeded a fifth of an inch, and in East Bengal and parts of South-West and North Bengal was more than ·15 inch. A general fall then set in and continued with moderate rapidity till the 12th, when the distribution was very nearly normal, and after remaining steady or oscillating about the normal for some days, a fall again set in on the 17th, followed by slight changes on the 18th and a rapid rise on the 19th, especially in East Bengal. From the 20th to the 24th it fell rapidly, giving a defect of about a fifth of an inch in East Bengal and a tenth elsewhere, then rose rapidly till the distribution was again nearly normal on the 28th, after which it fell on the 29th and rose on the 30th. The oscillations have therefore been large and generally continued for several days, but except in the early part of the month, pressure has generally been below the average. The means for the month are slightly below the normal in Lower Bengal, the difference being about a hundredth of an inch in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and South Behar. Elsewere there is a small excess, generally under a hundredth of an inch.

Temperature—Has generally been above the normal, more especially in the western half of the province. In the early part of the month excess was largest in the day temperatures, averaging about 3°, while at night there was generally excess of about 1°. Between the 4th and 11th there was a large fall in the maximum temperature in Lower Bengal, but an increase at night, the mean still continuing above the normal, except in Orissa and East Bengal. As compared with the normal, there was less difference during these days than any other part of the month, and these conditions remained unaltered in Orissa and East Bengal for some time, while excess was from 2° to 3·5° in the other districts. Between the 18th and 26th, in consequence of the two shallow depressions giving unsettled weather and thunderstorms, a rather large defect appeared in East and North Bengal, but after the disappearance of the second depression about the 26th, a cold wave moved over the whole province, giving unusually low temperatures for about one day. It was felt in Behar on Saturday the 26th, over the great part of Bengal on the 27th, and at the eastern stations on the 28th. With the approach of these conditions temperature fell with great rapidity, and for the short time they lasted it was from 10° to 20° below the normal. Some of the minimum temperatures registered on the 27th were—Chupra 61°, Arrah and Hazaribagh 66°, Dehree, Buxar, and Bhagulpore 67°. On the 28th Darjeeling reported 41·7°, Purneah 63°, and several other stations under 65°, while over almost the whole of Bengal temperature on the night of the 27th was under 70°. A rapid rise followed, and till the end of the month excess prevailed. The means for the month are above the normal except in East and North Bengal. In Chutia Nagpur excess is 0·8°, South-West Bengal 0·6°, and South Behar 0 5°. For East and North Bengal defect is about half a degree, and for the other districts the mean is very nearly normal.

Rainfall—Was absent during the early part of the month. Scattered showers commenced in South-West and East Bengal, continuing till the 10th, and almost general rain fell in the northern districts of North Bengal from the 9th to the 11th. Between the 11th and 15th only a few scattered showers fell in North Bengal, but on the 16th they were again more numerous in East and North Bengal, and almost general rain was received on the 18th and 19th over the eastern half of the province. Rainfall was again more scattered on the 19th, and continued so till the 26th, after which it practically ceased. The showers in the western half have been unusually scattered and scanty, and the average fall for these parts is largely below the normal. Excess in North Bengal amounts to 1·8 inches, and in East Bengal to 0·9 inch. South-West Bengal has received about three-fourths of the average, South Behar four-fifths, North Behar one-third, Orissa one-fifth, and Chutia Nagpur one-seventh. Some heavy falls have occurred in East and North Bengal, the heaviest being Julpigoree 6·3 inches, Mymensingh 6 inches, Noakhally and Serajgunge over 5 inches, and Dacca 4·8 inches Heavy rain has been falling in Assam—12·8 inches at Silchar, 6·9 inches at Sibsagar, and 6·8 inches at Dhubri.

* Mean for six days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers for rainfall are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past ten years. The stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 9th of May 1890.

CALCUTTA, the 13th May 1890.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 9TH OF MAY 1890.

VERY unusual weather conditions have prevailed throughout the week, pressure, temperature and rainfall all differing largely from the normal. Over Bengal very little change has taken place, wind circulation being day after day south or south-west in Lower Bengal, south-east or east over the northern half of the province, and west in Chutia Nagpur; the sky has generally been clear and temperature high; rainfall has been almost entirely confined to East and North Bengal.

At the beginning of the week pressure was about a tenth of an inch below the normal, after a moderately rapid fall in the north-west, but on Sunday and Monday, the 4th and 5th, it again rose, and was very nearly normal on the latter. Temperature was more than 5° above the normal over the northern half of Bengal, but as rain was falling in North Bengal and scattered showers in East Bengal during the first three days of the week, the high temperatures were during these days chiefly confined to Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and South-West Bengal. After the 5th no more rain fell in East Bengal, but the somewhat scattered rainfall in North Bengal continued throughout. On the 6th a very rapid fall of pressure set in over Bengal, Burmah, and the Bay, resulting by the end of the week in a very large defect over the whole of this area. On the 7th weather became stormy on the Burmah coast. The fall of pressure was very rapid, wind force increased, and circulation became cyclonic round the depression, the centre of which was to the west of Diamond Island. Rain, generally heavy, fell at the Burmah stations. Defect had increased to nearly a quarter of an inch over the whole of East and North Bengal. The depression crossed the coast shortly afterwards, moving in a north-north-easterly direction, and broke up in Burmah on the following day. The chief influence of this storm on the weather in Bengal was seen in the calm weather while it was forming off Diamond Island, and afterwards when it had passed inland in the very strong winds which blew over East and South-West Bengal on Friday. The rain which has since been falling in East Bengal may also be due to the disturbed condition of the atmosphere consequent on the breaking up of the storm. During the last two days pressure was steadily rising, but defect was still over two-tenths of an inch in North Bengal, and was generally more than three-twentieths of an inch elsewhere. Temperature continued to be largely in excess, nearly 10° in South-West Bengal and from 6° to 10° elsewhere.

Pressure—As stated above, has been generally below the normal. Commencing with a defect of a tenth of an inch, it rose till almost normal, after which it fell very rapidly, giving in two or three days a defect varying from 0·15 inch to 0·25 inch. Means are, therefore, very largely in defect everywhere, generally more than a tenth of an inch, and in South-West, East and North Bengal and Assam nearly 0·15 inch.

Temperature—Has continued largely in excess throughout the week, and some very high maximum temperatures have been registered. The following stations have all reported temperature over 110° some time during the week:—Cuttack, Midnapore, Bankoora, Raneegunge, Dehree, Gya, Bankipore, and Chyebassa. In Behar these highest temperatures were on the 6th and 7th, but elsewhere on the 9th. With the exception of the coast stations, temperature has at times been everywhere over 100°. The mean excess is almost everywhere more than 5°, and in South-West Bengal ranges from 7° to 9°. The mean for South-West Bengal is 92°, South Behar 94·2°, and Chutia Nagpur 90·5°. Elsewhere it is under 90°. The largest mean excess is 7° for South-West Bengal, South Behar is next 6·8°, Chutia Nagpur 6·1°, East Bengal, North Behar, and Assam more than 5°, North Bengal 4·3°, and Orissa 3·5°.

Rainfall—Has been chiefly confined to East and North Bengal. In the latter showers fell every day of the week, and in the former during the first three days, while in the other districts very scattered rain was received. In Orissa and Chutia Nagpur no rain fell, in Behar less than a tenth of an inch, in South-West Bengal one-tenth, in North Bengal 1·18 inches, and East Bengal ·55 inch. In South-West and East Bengal defect is about an inch and-a-half, and in the other districts about half an inch. The heaviest falls in North Bengal were in Rungpore and Cooch Behar, Ulipore 6·4 inches, Mickliguuge 4 inches, Rungpore 3·6 inches, and Bhowanigunge 3·5 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 9th of May 1890 :—

No. 137, dated Simla, the 9th May 1890.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

THE following translation of the Special Regulations of the Ottoman Board of Health, applicable to the Mecca Pilgrimage of 1890, received through Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, is published for general information.

Special Regulations applicable to Mecca Pilgrimage of 1890.

ARTICLE 1.—From the beginning of the month of Redjeb until the end of the month of Zilhidjé (20th February to 16th August), the Lazaretto of Camaran will be open to receive arrivals by sea subject to quarantine.

ARTICLE 2.—During the period of six months abovementioned (Redjeb, Shaban, Ramazan, Shawwál, Zilcadé, Zilhidjé) pilgrim-ships arriving from beyond the Straits of Bab-el-Mandeb, whether their Bill-of-Health is clean or foul, must go direct to the Island of Camaran without touching at any other port on the Red Sea Coast.

ARTICLE 3.—The expression pilgrim-ships means ships expressly chartered for the conveyance of pilgrims going to Mecca.

ARTICLE 4.—Vessels bound to the Red Sea having on board not more than one pilgrim for every 100 tons of registered tonnage are not included in the definition of pilgrim-ships. Such vessels will be dealt with according to the character of their Bills-of-Health, conformably to the provisions of the General Regulation of 1867 applicable to vessels coming from cholera-infected places.

ARTICLE 5.—Mail-boats and vessels carrying not more than five pilgrims for every 100 tons register can proceed to Abu-Saad, where they will discharge, subject to quarantine, their pilgrims and merchandise destined for the Hedjaz.

For this purpose, a Lazaretto is established at Abu-Saad as a branch of the Camaran Lazaretto, which will be open to arrivals specified in Articles 4 and 5 of the present Regulation throughout the year.

Merchandise destined for Yemen not susceptible of infection can be landed at Hodeida under the supervision of the Sanitary authority.

ARTICLE 6.—Arrivals from Egyptian ports, Sambouks and other coasters subject to quarantine, proceeding from one port to another of the Red Sea Coast, will also perform quarantine at Abu-Saad.

ARTICLE 7.—Indian or Malayan pilgrims who take the indirect route vid Suez to the Hedjaz will be subjected to quarantine unless they can prove, on their arrival at Jedda, by their passports or other official documents, that they have come from beyond the Suez Canal or that they have spent at least ten days in Egypt in free pratique and in good health.

ARTICLE 8.—Captains of ships carrying pilgrims are bound to conform strictly to the instructions mentioned below regarding the measurement of pilgrim-ships.

ARTICLE 9.—The embarkation on pilgrim-ships of living animals as well as hides, animal remains, rags of all kinds, coal, petroleum and all other inflammable or explosive material, except such coal and animals as are necessary for the service and provisioning of the ship during the voyage, is strictly prohibited.

ARTICLE 10.—On the arrival of a pilgrim-ship in Camaran Harbour or Abu-Saad, as the case may be, all pilgrims will be disembarked and undergo the usual medical examination. If the health of the ship is good, and no suspicious case has occurred on the voyage, the ship and the pilgrims will undergo five full days' quarantine, clothes and effects will be disinfected, the ship will be washed and purified, but the cargo will not be landed nor purified nor taxed.

ARTICLE 11.—Pilgrim-ships which arrive from infected ports, but have had no cholera case during the voyage or after arrival, will undergo (ships and pilgrims) a quarantine of ten days. Merchandise coming from a cholera-infected port will remain on board the ship, if there have been no cholera cases during the voyage or after arrival, but will be exempt from disinfection and from sanitary fees, except in the case of old personal effects and stuffs already used, unwashed wool, old cottons, hair and feathers, raw hides, and other raw animal remains, and rags of all kinds.

ARTICLE 12.—Ships upon which cases of cholera or suspicious cases have occurred during the voyage, or after arrival, will be subjected (ships and pilgrims) to a quarantine of at least 15 days. This quarantine will be renewed each time a cholera case occurs among crew or passengers after their arrival in the Lazaretto, and will date from the day of the last case of sickness. In such cases the provisions of the Regulation of 1867 for Cholera will be strictly applied.

ARTICLE 13.—No pilgrim-ship shall leave finally Camaran without having re-shipped, at the expiration of the quarantine, all the pilgrims brought by her. Vessels which have completed their quarantine without cholera cases or suspected cases among the persons on board will be entitled to free partique.

ARTICLE 14.—Sambouks coming from beyond Cape Bab-el-Mandeb with pilgrims will be subject to the same rules as vessels specially chartered for pilgrims. They must go direct to the Camaran anchorage, and will be refused admission at all other Arabian ports of the Red Sea.

Vessels coming from Bassora with pilgrims on board, bound for the Hedjaz, will also have to go direct to Camaran, but will be treated according to the tenor of their Bill-of-Health and the General Regulations of 1867 for Cholera.

The same exceptional treatment is applicable to arrivals from Muscat, Zanzibar, and Bushire, provided such vessels are furnished with a regular Bill-of-Health indicating a good sanitary condition of the port of departure, and also if they have not touched at any intermediate port in the course of the voyage.

ARTICLE 15.—Every pilgrim-ship which does not conform to the provisions of the present Regulation will be held to have contravened sanitary rules and be liable to extreme measures regarding quarantine.

Read at the Board of Health and approved at the sitting of the 14th January 1890.

Simla, the 12th May 1890.

No. 2355.—Ordered that the following be published in the Gazette of India for general information:—

REVENUE,
No. 25.

INDIA OFFICE,
London, 27th March 1890.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—I have considered in Council Your Excellency's letter No. 29, (Separate Revenue), dated the 4th February, with enclosures, concerning the Excise administration in different parts of India. When I forwarded a copy of the Resolution passed by the House of Commons on the 30th April 1889, I expressed my belief that the Government of India and the Local Governments accepted and were carrying out the principles recited in my Despatches, and approved by the House of Commons, for the guidance of all authorities concerned with Excise affairs in India. The full and interesting accounts contained in your present letter, and in the enclosed papers, confirm the view taken in my Despatch of the 16th May 1889. The detailed information now furnished places, in important particulars, a different complexion on some of the matters mentioned during the debate in the House of Commons on the 30th April; and steps have already been taken to procure the presentation of these papers to Parliament.

2. I shall not trouble Your Excellency with a detailed review of all the many topics discussed in your comprehensive letter, which affords valuable evidence of the careful consideration given, both recently and in past times, by the Government of India and by the subordinate Governments to the intricate problems of Indian Excise administration. I consider these papers demonstrate among other things—

(1) that total prohibition of all traffic in intoxicating spirits and liquors is not possible in India;

(2) that while absolute local option in Excise matters is not feasible, weight can be, should be, and is given to local opinion in regard to licensing liquor shops;

(3) that the only practicable way of repressing intemperance among the drinking classes of India is to restrict opportunities for drinking, and to levy on intoxicants as high a revenue as may be possible without promoting smuggling;

(4) that by reason of the circumstances of the country, and according to actual experience in many parts, illicit dealings in and consumption of liquor occur when vigilance is relaxed, or when restrictions on lawful trade are pressed too far;

(5) that diversities of circumstances and of tastes in the many countries which compose India render differences of practice and of results in the several Provinces unavoidable, even though the same principles are everywhere followed;

(6) that so far as information is available, the Excise system or practice of Native States is less stringent, and tends less to check intemperance than the system and practice of adjacent British districts with similar inhabitants;

(7) that the increase of the Excise revenue during the past twenty years, though in part due to enhanced consumption caused by the growth of population and by the general increase of earnings, is yet largely, and in some localities mainly, the result of improved Excise administration, which doubled or trebled the rates of liquor duty, and has at the same time restricted the use of illicit intoxicants;

(8) that there has been of late years much reduction in the number of licensed liquor shops, notably in Bengal, where there are now 4,539 licensed spirit shops as compared with 8,937 licensed in the year 1871-72, but that there is room for further reduction in some Provinces;

(9) that the action of Indian public servants in Excise affairs is not warped, and their evidence on such topics is not vitiated by the duty which lies upon them to administer the public revenue to the best advantage on the principles and under the rules laid down for their guidance.

3. I fully accept the general principles stated at the 103rd paragraph of Your Excellency's letter as those which should guide the Local Governments and their revenue officers in administering Excise affairs. I consider that, save under very exceptional circumstances, and in strictly limited areas, the central distillery system of excise management should be preferred to the farming system or the outstill system. The former system provides that all licit spirit shall pay a still-head duty per gallon proportionate to its alcoholic strength, whereas the other two systems permit, if they do not stimulate, the production and sale of large quantities of comparatively cheap spirit, even when effort is made to limit the capacity of stills, and to prescribe a minimum retail price.

4. I am confident that, as I stated in May 1889, Your Excellency's Government and the Local Governments are fully as desirous as I am, or as the House of Commons can be, to prevent the increase of drinking habits and of intemperance among the people of India; and I anticipate that the discussions of the past two years,—even though aspersions, which I believe to be incorrect, have fallen upon Indian Excise arrangements,—will have done good by strengthening the hands of your officers, and of the people themselves, in their efforts to restrict within the narrowest limits the evils that are unhappily inseparable from the popular use of intoxicating liquors and drugs.

I have, &c.,
